ONE PRISONER MADE HIS ESCAPE

Left In Charge of Special Officer McKenty He Decided to Take French Leave.

A LONG LIST OF OFFENDERS

Police Business Was Unusually Good on Saturday Evening and Arrests Numerous.

CAIN WENT TO THE WORKS

The police department was kept busy Saturday night, and the demand for the patrol was so great that in a few instances they were compelled to double up. The bulk of the credit belongs to Officer Mahony, assisted by the patrolmen.

About 8:35 Saturday evening Mahony was summoned to the Williams' home on Fourth street, where Barney had been annoying the family. He had been drinking again, and when Barney drinks he is a great deal of trouble to his folks. He was seeing things Saturday night, and when the officer arrived he had been locked in the kitchen. The patrol was called and Williams was taken to jail, where he remained until Sunday evening. He was released.

Mike Malone was drunk on Sixth street Saturday night, and Officer Mahony called the patrol to aid in escorting the man to jail. He was fined $5 60 by Mayor Davidson Sunday morning, and is still in jail.

Patrolmen Ruhe and Woods found John Daley asleep in the upper freight yards about an half hour after midnight Saturday night, and he was dead to the world. While engaged in carrying him to the wagon another man was discovered asleep in a freight car nearby and he was taken along to keep the other fellow company. When the party arrived at the jail they were met by Officers Davidson and Bob McKenty, the latter having been put on as an extra, and while Davidson and Woods carried Daley into the jail the other fellow was placed in charge of McKenty. Daley was landed all right and Woods turned his attention to the second victim. He was nowhere to be found, and inquiries made of McKenty failed to develop anything that would indicate the fellow had ever been in his custody. McKenty thinks he left him standing in the corridor and that he took French leave. Patrolman Woods knows the man and will get him today. Daley was fined $5 60.

Arthur Penny overestimated his capacity Saturday night and at an early hour was compelled to look up a secluded spot in which to take a nap. He hid himself to the old cemetery, where he was found at 10:25 by Officer Mahony. He took a ride in the patrol. A watch, revolver and a pocketbook were found on him.

Mayor Davidson gave him a hearing yesterday morning and upon pleading guilty he was fined $6 60. He paid up and was released.

Anthony Reagan was arrested by Officer Morris at Seventh and West Market at 9:30 Saturday night. He was very drunk and was allowed to sober up in jail. When arraigned Sunday morning he claimed he had been touched for some $27, but still had enough to pay a fine of $5 60. He was released.

Officer Mahony found Arthur Salting on the railroad at Jethro at about 9:45 Saturday night, and assisted by the patrol, took him to city hall. He was raising a row at his home and indulged in some very vile language toward his wife. The mayor fined him $6 60. He paid up and was allowed to go.

Anthony Manahan was run in by Fireman Bettridge on Sunday and a charge of intoxication placed against him. He was fined $5 60.

Officer Davidson left this morning for the Canton workhouse, having in custody "Crip" Cain, who will work out a fine of $9 60 in that institution.

C. B. McGill laid in a supply of liquor on Saturday night and last evening was enjoying himself on Third street when Officer Morris arrested him. He had not been given a hearing as yet.

J. J. Langley has made complaint before the mayor against Jerome McCormick, charging him with disorderly conduct. McCormick knocked Langley's son off his bicycle yesterday, injuring the lad severely.

Bart Brown had been celebrating all day yesterday and wound up at the corner of Fifth and Broadway, where he set down upon the steps for a quiet nap. Officer Dawson found him there and took him to jail.

When the time arrived for hearing the case against Barney Williams this morning, it was decided to make no charge and arrangements are being made to place him where he will not be liable to harm anyone.

Jack Farmer was arrested by Chief Thompson in Center alley about 10 o'clock this morning and he was boiling drunk, evidently having slept there all night, as he was soaking wet and his clothes were covered with mud. He will be given the entire day in which to sober up.

SOLD TO HER SON.

MRS. THOMAS FARMER HAD A SALOON KEEPER ARRESTED.

Arrived at the Saloon Just in Time to See Joseph Vondram Giving Her Minor Son a Drink.

Mrs. Thomas Farmer, sr., made complaint before Mayor Davidson Saturday afternoon against Joseph Vondram, who conducts a saloon at the corner of Jefferson and Sixth streets, for furnishing liquor to her minor son. The saloon man was brought down and gave security for his appearance at 1 o'clock today.

Mrs. Farmer says she went into the saloon just in time to catch the bartender in the act of selling a drink to her son, and that she had warned him repeatedly not to sell him intoxicants.

The saloonist claims he was serving him with a soft drink, but he is liable all the same, as there is a penalty against permitting a minor to loiter about a place of that character.

Vandron appeared at the mayor's office this afternoon and signed a waiver to his right to a jury trial. Mayor Davidson fined him $20 and costs, amounting in all to $29 55.

Taken to the Works.

Lisbon, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—Edward Gayton, John Tullis and A. F. Moorehead were taken to the Canton workhouse today by Sheriff Noragon.

One Marriage License.

A marriage license has been granted to George W. Pancake, of Achor, and Miss Annie Martha Fowler, of this city.

REV. GORRELL'S EARNEST TALK

He Deems the Late Brewery Parade a Disgrace to Our City.

HAS NO UNCERTAIN SOUND

Believes in Making Milwaukee and Cincinnati Beer Headquarters.

BRANDS THEM AS PEST HOUSES

The following article has the right ring. It has no uncertain sound. It brands sin and evil in language which he who runs may understand. We give but a mere synopsis of Rev. Gorrell's sermon of Sunday night, Oct. 7. We are very sorry we cannot give the sermon in full:

"Evil exists in this world, and it will exist while time shall last. But evil can be curtailed and in a measure controlled. The demonstration made by the lowest element of our community upon the day the new brewery was started upon its career of evil and sin and vice; upon its errand of the degradation and debasement of manhood and womanhood, body, brain and soul, was a disgrace to all decency. The putting of flags upon the poles erected throughout our city was a defiant challenge to all good and true citizens. Even the street cars, our common carriers, were decorated with these flags of evil, advertising our dishonor and our shame. The feelings of the good people of our city were not taken into consideration, although this class is largely in the majority in East Liverpool. I, for one, refused to ride on these cars until the badges of dishonor were removed. That young man who resigned his place in the band rather than play for the brewery people on that day is greatly to be admired. He is a hero. One thousand such men in our city would create such a sentiment against the saloon that it could not exist in our midst. It is claimed by some that the brewery might as well be here, as the demand will be supplied, and it would have been erected in some other city. I believe in confining the saloon, brewery and liquor business in as narrow limits as possible. Some cities confine gambling dens and bawdy houses to certain quarters or locations, and there they are kept as orderly as such dens of vice and iniquity can be kept. This is done in order that the bad influence and companionship of the inmates may not pollute and poison the entire city. Smallpox patients, and those suffering from kindred infectious diseases, are consigned to pest houses and there quarantined and cut off from the outside world, or communication therewith. I am in favor of confining the distilleries and the breweries to Cincinnati and Milwaukee, and making those places pest houses for the use of the rest of the United States.

"There is now in our city of East Liverpool an unusual and powerful influence in favor of evil and sin of every character. Note the increase of crime. Note the increase in drunkenness. The patrol was called into play on seven different occasions in one night lately. Prosperity is with us, and the saloon, the distillery and the brewery follow after prosperity and prosperous workmen, just as surely as the vulture and the buzzard follow after a rich feast of flesh. Is the present brewery enacting the part of the buzzards and the vultures? Is it accountable for much of the increase of drunkenness, crime and debauchery?"

STOLE A RIC.

J. L. COPE HAS OFFERED A REWARD OF $50.

The Outfit Was Taken from the Square in Lisbon Last Saturday Evening.

Lisbon, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—A reward of $50 was offered here this morning by J. L. Cope, who lives six miles west of Lisbon, for the return of a horse and buggy which was stolen from the square here Saturday evening.

The outfit is described as a brown horse and a new piano box buggy valued at $125. The authorities are searching for one Frank Blackburn, who resides here and who was seen driving the horse out of town.

Blackburn is a young man, but is an old offender, having served two terms in the penitentiary and one in the workhouse for horse stealing within the past six years. In two cases for which he went to the penitentiary the horses were stolen at Wellsville.

He was last seen Saturday night driving through Franklin square.

TWO FIRES.

Both of Them Were Put Out Without the Aid of the Department.

Yesterday morning a chimney fire occurred in the Firestone block, College street, in a house occupied by a family named Kirchner. The fire department was called, but the blaze was put out before it arrived.

A small fire occurred at the East Liverpool pottery this morning about 8:30 o'clock. A box used to cover the meter, which is on College street, in some manner became ignited. The engineer secured a crow bar, and prying the box loose, threw it into the street, where it was extinguished by a bucket of water.

A PLEASANT TIME.

Knights of Pythias Entertained a Number of Visitors Last Saturday Night.

At a special meeting of the Knights of Pythias Saturday night four candidates were initiated, two given the second degree and four given the third degree.

After the business was transacted a banquet was held. Oriental lodge, of Salineville, and Silver lodge, of Wellsville, were present and a very enjoyable time was had by all.

The affair broke up in time for the visitors to catch the midnight train.

Admitted to Probate.

Lisbon, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—The will in the estate of the late Emma Everson, of Wellsville, was admitted to probate today and Richard H. Everson will qualify as executor.

The will of Michael Dempsey was also probated and Catherine Dempsey appointed executor without bond. No appraisal.

Postponed the Case.

Lisbon, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—The case of J. B. McKinnon against the Pennsylvania Railroad company, has been postponed until Oct. 29.

WM. WEDGEWOOD ON A RAMPAGE

Abused His Family to Such an Extent That an Officer Was Called.

THEN STRUCK OFFICER WOODS

Rev. Gorrell Went to the Assistance of the Officer and Wedgewood Went to Jail.

A VERY DISGRACEFUL AFFAIR

Patrolman Wood was summoned to the head of Lincoln avenue Saturday night at about 11:30 o'clock, where William Wedgewood was making things very unpleasant for his family and the neighbors.

Saturday was his pay day and he had taken on considerable booze. Wedgewood thumped all the members of his family until he was tired and was about to start on the neighbors when the officer arrived.

When Wood arrived he had locked the door, but that didn't prevent the officer from going in. He had been against games of that sort before. When he finally did get in Wedgewood had gone to bed with all of his clothes on and refused to get up.

Woods didn't argue the point long, but proceeded to take him. This he found to be a little more difficult than he had reckoned on, but he went after him just the same. Wedgewood got hold of a bread knife and was preparing to do some carving when Rev. Gorrell, pastor of the Christian church, arrived on the scene. By this time the officer had his man in the corner and the minister caught his wrist while Wood secured him. It was necessary to use the mace a few times before the prisoner would submit.

The patrol was telephoned for and when the man was landed in jail about midnight he was in his shirt sleeves and was minus his shoes.

From information gathered in that vicinity, Wedgewood had everything his own way for some time before the officer arrived. He whipped his wife and daughter and threatened to kill his two children.

Parties who reside in the neighborhood say it was one of the worst affairs they ever witnessed. One of the children was in the yard with nothing but its night clothes on, while the daughter had the sleeve torn out of her dress. There were cries of murder.

Officer Wood used discretion and prudence with Wedgewood, and although he was struck by the man he did not beat him up and tried to coax him to go without the patrol.

He was fined $6 60 by Mayor Davidson.

Prof. Galbreath in Court.

Lisbon, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—Prof. Galbreath appeared in court this morning and will answer to a charge of perjury for having filed a false certificate of the financial condition of Carnegie college, Rogers. He will fight the case.

—Miss Mary Murphy and little niece, of Steubenville, have returned home after a pleasant visit in the city the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Whitacre and Mrs. J. H. Harp.

The demonstration made by the lowest element of our community upon the day the new brewery was started upon its career of evil and sin and vice; upon its errand of the degradation and debasement of manhood and womanhood, body, brain and soul, was a disgrace to all decency. The putting of flags upon the poles erected throughout our city was a defiant challenge to all good and true citizens. Even the street cars, our common carriers, were decorated with these flags of evil, advertising our dishonor and our shame. The feelings of the good people of our city were not taken into consideration, although this class is largely in the majority in East Liverpool. I, for one, refused to ride on these cars until the badges of dishonor were removed. That young man who resigned his place in the band rather than play for the brewery people on that day is greatly to be admired. He is a hero. One thousand such men in our city would create such a sentiment against the saloon that it could not exist in our midst. It is claimed by some that the brewery might as well be here, as the demand will be supplied, and it would have been erected in some other city. I believe in confining the saloon, brewery and liquor business in as narrow limits as possible. Some cities confine gambling dens and bawdy houses to certain quarters or locations, and there they are kept as orderly as such dens of vice and iniquity can be kept. This is done in order that the bad influence and companionship of the inmates may not pollute and poison the entire city. Smallpox patients, and those suffering from kindred infectious diseases, are consigned to pest houses and there quarantined and cut off from the outside world, or communication therewith. I am in favor of confining the distilleries and the breweries to Cincinnati and Milwaukee, and making those places pest houses for the use of the rest of the United States.

"There is now in our city of East Liverpool an unusual and powerful influence in favor of evil and sin of every character. Note the increase of crime. Note the increase in drunkenness. The patrol was called into play on seven different occasions in one night lately. Prosperity is with us, and the saloon, the distillery and the brewery follow after prosperity and prosperous workmen, just as surely as the vulture and the buzzard follow after a rich feast of flesh. Is the present brewery enacting the part of the buzzards and the vultures? Is it accountable for much of the increase of drunkenness, crime and debauchery?"

STOLE A RIC.

J. L. COPE HAS OFFERED A REWARD OF $50.

The Outfit Was Taken from the Square in Lisbon Last Saturday Evening.

Lisbon, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—A reward of $50 was offered here this morning by J. L. Cope, who lives six miles west of Lisbon, for the return of a horse and buggy which was stolen from the square here Saturday evening.

The outfit is described as a brown horse and a new piano box buggy valued at $125. The authorities are searching for one Frank Blackburn, who resides here and who was seen driving the horse out of town.

Blackburn is a young man, but is an old offender, having served two terms in the penitentiary and one in the workhouse for horse stealing within the past six years. In two cases for which he went to the penitentiary the horses were stolen at Wellsville.

He was last seen Saturday night driving through Franklin square.

TWO FIRES.

Both of Them Were Put Out Without
the Aid of the Department.

Yesterday morning a chimney fire occurred in the Firestone block, College street, in a house occupied by a family named Kirchner. The fire department was called, but the blaze was put out before it arrived.

A small fire occurred at the East Liverpool pottery this morning about 8:30 o'clock. A box used to cover the meter, which is on College street, in some manner became ignited. The engineer secured a crow bar, and prying the box loose, threw it into the street, where it was extinguished by a bucket of water.

A PLEASANT TIME.

Knights of Pythias Entertained a
Number of Visitors Last Saturday Night.

At a special meeting of the Knights of Pythias Saturday night four candidates were initiated, two given the second degree and four given the third degree.

After the business was transacted a banquet was held. Oriental lodge, of Salineville, and Silver lodge, of Wellsville, were present and a very enjoyable time was had by all.

The affair broke up in time for the visitors to catch the midnight train.

Admitted to Probate.

Lisbon, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—The will in the estate of the late Emma Everson, of Wellsville, was admitted to probate today and Richard H. Everson will qualify as executor.

The will of Michael Dempsey was also probated and Catherine Dempsey appointed executor without bond. No appraisalment.

Postponed the Case.

Lisbon, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—The case of J. B. McKinnon against the Pennsylvania Railroad company, has been postponed until Oct. 29.

WM. WEDGEWOOD ON A RAMPAGE

Abused His Family to Such an Extent That an Officer
Was Called.

THEN STRUCK OFFICER WOODS

Rev. Gorrell Went to the Assistance of the Officer and Wedgewood Went to Jail.

A VERY DISGRACEFUL AFFAIR

Patrolman Wood was summoned to the head of Lincoln avenue Saturday night at about 11:30 o'clock, where William Wedgewood was making things very unpleasant for his family and the neighbors.

Saturday was his pay day and he had taken on considerable booze. Wedgewood thumped all the members of his family until he was tired and was about to start on the neighbors when the officer arrived.

When Wood arrived he had locked the door, but that didn't prevent the officer from going in. He had been against games of that sort before. When he finally did get in Wedgewood had gone to bed with all of his clothes on and refused to get up.

Woods didn't argue the point long, but proceeded to take him. This he found to be a little more difficult than he had reckoned on, but he went after him just the same. Wedgewood got hold of a bread knife and was preparing to do some carving when Rev. Gorrell, pastor of the Christian church, arrived on the scene. By this time the officer had his man in the corner and the minister caught his wrist while Wood secured him. It was necessary to use the mace a few times before the prisoner would submit.

The patrol was telephoned for and when the man was landed in jail about midnight he was in his shirt sleeves and was minus his shoes.

From information gathered in that vicinity, Wedgewood had everything his own way for some time before the officer arrived. He whipped his wife and daughter and threatened to kill his two children.

Parties who reside in the neighborhood say it was one of the worst affairs they ever witnessed. One of the children was in the yard with nothing but its night clothes on, while the daughter had the sleeve torn out of her dress. There were cries of murder.

Officer Wood used discretion and prudence with Wedgewood, and although he was struck by the man he did not beat him up and tried to coax him to go without the patrol.

He was fined $6 60 by Mayor Davidson.

Prof. Galbreath in Court.

Lisbon, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—Prof. Galbreath appeared in court this morning and will answer to a charge of perjury for having filed a false certificate of the financial condition of Carnegie college, Rogers. He will fight the case.

REV. JORDAN

Pleased the Large Audiences at the First Presbyterian Church Yesterday.

Rev. Charles G. Jordan, the new pastor of the First Presbyterian church, preached to two very large audiences yesterday. Before the morning service he made a short address to the congregation.

His morning sermon was splendid, and the members of the congregation were well pleased.

In the evening he took for his text, "Be ye therefore perfect," and delivered a very eloquent and instructive address. The special music at both services was very good.

SERIOUSLY ILL.

Joseph Larkins is in a Very Critical Condition at His Home in Sebring.

Word was received in this city Saturday to the effect that Joseph Larkins, better known as "Dad" Larkins, who has been employed in one of the potteries at Sebring, was very ill with typhoid fever, and but little hope is entertained for his recovery.

THEY FOUGHT.

DOC IRISH AND BILLY HIMES ENGAGED IN A BATTLE.

Himes Got Decidedly the Worst of It, And Was Badly Used Up.

Doc Irish and Billy Himes had an altercation on the green opposite Thompson's pottery Saturday night in which Himes got badly used up.

The particulars of the affair are not known, but Irish claims he was sitting by the spring in company with several other men, when Himes walked up and hit him squarely in the face. Irish being of a pugilistic turn would not stand this, and when he had finished his man it was evident from Himes' appearance he would rather have been at the Paris exposition than where he was at that particular moment.

Rock Springs cafe will open for the winter season under management of Joseph Cassidy, with a grand ball Tuesday evening, October 9. Admission, gents 35 cents, ladies free. All are invited to attend McGraw's orchestra.

For a Church in Jerusalem.

Jerusalem, Oct. 8.—The bishop of Jerusalem, in the name of the pope, and in the presence of the German consul and 500 German pilgrims, Sunday, laid the cornerstone of the church which is to be erected on Mt. Zion, on the site Abdul Hamid presented to Emperor William on the occasion of the latter's visit to the Holy Land.

Battery C May Leave Today.

Shenandoah, Pa., Oct. 8.—General Gobin announced that if the weather conditions are favorable today, Battery C will break camp and leave for home. The situation in this district, the general says, is not such as to require the presence of the troops, and he intends to order the soldiers away as soon as possible.

The Deutschland Not Grounded.

London, Oct. 8.—The Deutschland, Captain Albers, which left Hamburg Saturday for New York, and reported as having grounded in the Elbe, sailed from Southampton yesterday. Captain Albers denied that the steamer went ashore, explaining that her bow just grazed a shoal in the Elbe.

Rev. Dr. S. G. Anderson Dead.

Toledo, O., Oct. 8.—Rev. S. G. Anderson, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church, and one of the most gifted divines of Ohio, died suddenly at his home yesterday afternoon of heart disease.

Died of Bubonic Plague.

Glasgow, Oct. 8.—A man who was brought here from Govan on the Clyde, below Glasgow, and received at the city hospital on Sept. 20, died there of the bubonic plague.

Has an excellent corps of teachers, each a specialist in his line. Individual instruction in all branches. ACTUAL BUSINESS Bookkeeping, Banking, Corporation, etc.; Shorthand, Typewriting, (Touch System) Penmanship and Common Branches. Enter at the opening of the term, Sept. 4, 1900.

REV. JORDAN

Pleased the Large Audiences at the First Presbyterian Church Yesterday.

Rev. Charles G. Jordan, the new pastor of the First Presbyterian church, preached to two very large audiences yesterday. Before the morning service he made a short address to the congregation.

His morning sermon was splendid, and the members of the congregation were well pleased.

In the evening he took for his text, "Be ye therefore perfect," and delivered a very eloquent and instructive address. The special music at both services was very good.

DOC IRISH AND BILLY HIMES ENGAGED IN A BATTLE.

Himes Got Decidedly the Worst of It, And Was Badly Used Up.

Doc Irish and Billy Himes had an altercation on the green opposite Thompson's pottery Saturday night in which Himes got badly used up.

The particulars of the affair are not known, but Irish claims he was sitting by the spring in company with several other men, when Himes walked up and hit him squarely in the face. Irish being of a pugilistic turn would not stand this, and when he had finished his man it was evident from Himes' appearance he would rather have been at the Paris exposition than where he was at that particular moment.

When You Buy Dollies.

A father was commissioned by his small daughter to buy a dozen little bisque dolls. Her instructions were so many and so detailed that the father found himself hesitating to perform the commission.

"See here, Ethel," he said at last, "I'm afraid I'll make some awful mistake. Don't you think you'd better wait until your cold is better, and then you can go into town some day with mamma and pick out the doll babies for yourself?"

"Oh, no, papa," cried Ethel, "I do so want them right off. And, papa, I'll tell you how to choose them. Just pick each one up and look straight into its eyes, and if it looks at you as if it really and truly loved you, why, you buy it."—New York Sun.

No Flies In Skyscrapers.

"If I was a baldheaded man I would get me an office on one of the upper floors of the tallest skyscraper in town," remarked an attorney. "Why? Because I'd never have to brush a fly from my hairless pate. Flies stay near the ground, seldom getting more than 30 or 40 feet above it. The only flies you get in a skyscraper are the ones that stray up through the interior of the building, and they are mighty few. You will find them on the lower floors, but just keep your eyes open when you are in high buildings, you'll see mighty few of the little pests above the third or fourth floors."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Hired by the Hour.

When Remenyi, the famous violinist, was a young man, he was engaged by a parvenu to play at a dinner, the agreement stating that he was to furnish music from 8 o'clock to 11. He began with an andante movement from Mozart, a composition which opens very low and soft.

The host turned to his guests, "That's just like those musicians," he said. "I hired him by the hour, and see how slow he plays."—Kansas City Independent.

TO SHELTER HOMELESS

Clara Barton Appeals For Galveston.

LUMBER FOR HOUSES IS NEEDED.

Dealers In That Article and Household Goods Asked to Contribute, Also the Business Men of the Country—About 8,000 Need Homes.

Four weeks ago a population of about 40,000 persons were on this island. In one day and night it is estimated that approximately 10,000 of these were either drowned or killed by the fury of the storm. We believe it is reliably stated that there is not one house in the area of the storm undamaged by it. A large proportion of those persons formerly occupying them are entirely without homes or even shelter save such as persons nearly as destitute as themselves can offer them temporarily to their own great inconvenience and cost. The number of this homeless class is estimated at 8,000 or more. Winter is less than two months away. Although a mild climate, still snow and ice are known here. If tents would protect, which they would not, the sea sand and the quicksand would not hold them down; the first norther would leave their occupants as unsheltered as before, and hardships, colds, pneumonia and consumption would finish what the storm has left. Some substantial shelter must be had at once for these people. With this view, the National Red Cross has, with the co-operation of the general committee, obtained estimates of the best architects of the vicinity regarding the material needed for the construction of the necessary number of houses, tenements or homes for the suitable sheltering of these now unsheltered thousands of suffering people.

The following summary represents substantially the lumber and building material that would be required to shelter about 8,000 people in the most ordinary one-story weatherproof houses built singly or in blocks of tenements: Rough lumber, spruce or pine, 35,000 pieces, 2x10, 15 feet long; 4,000 pieces, 6x6, 15 feet long; 3,500 pieces, 4x6, 16 feet long; 5,500 pieces, 4x4, 16 feet long; 6,500 pieces, 2x4, 16 feet long; 15,000 pieces, 1x12, 12 feet long; 80,000 pieces, 1x3, 12 feet long; 35,000 pieces, 2x8, 16 feet long; 10,000 pieces, 2x4, 16 feet long; 90,000 pieces, 1x6, 16 feet long. Tongued and grooved flooring, 90,000 pieces, 1x6, 16 feet long; 4,000 window frames and sash, 2 feet, 10x6 feet; 4,000 door frames and doors, 2 feet 8x6 feet; 4,000 hinges, 3 inch, and screws; 4,000 hanks and staples; 50,000 brick for chimneys; 7,000 squares of felt roofing, threeply; 50 8-penny nails; 17 kegs 20-penny nails. Carpenters' tools for 100 carpenters. Bedsteads, bedding, chairs, tables, stoves, crockery, cutlery and sewing machines sufficient to furnish about 700 four-room houses in a modest, comfortable manner.

The havoc wrought by the storm in Galveston at once was much larger in loss of life and property than at Johnstown, but the donations in money so far have aggregated one-third less for both the city and mainland than was given at Johnstown. While the bountiful outpouring of the people's generosity has enabled the general reher committee and the Red Cross to feed the hungry, clothe the naked and render the streets of Galveston partially passable, nothing has as yet been done toward reinstating the impoverished survivors in houses where they can escape disease and enjoy the slight measure of the comforts of which the storm deprived them. Of the material named it is believed that Texas and Louisiana would prefer to furnish a large portion of the lumber. The other building material and household goods must come from those states which produce such articles.

EXTENSIVE AID FOR GALVESTON.

Philadelphia Cash Contributions Over $100,000. Besides Sending Supplies.

Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—The cash contributions by the citizens of this city to the relief fund for the Texas flood sufferers has now exceeded $100,000, and a considerable further increase is looked for within the next few days. Nearly all of this has been sent to Governor Sayers, of Texas, and is entirely exclusive of numerous trainloads of provisions, clothing, drugs and other articles sent in response to the appeal of the governor.

The Red Cross society, of this city, which has also sent considerable cash and clothing and drugs, is still actively engaged in the work of gathering supplies, which are being shipped as rapidly as possible, and money is still being placed in glass bowls, stationed in the central part of the city.

Man Murdered; Arrest Made.

Gallipolis, O., Oct. 8.—The dead body of Lawrence Earwood, aged 20, with the skull crushed, apparently by a blunt instrument, was found on the Ohio river, three miles below this city. Edward Burnett, who was last seen with Earwood in a wagon, was arrested.

Actor Murdered by Jealous Man.

Huntington, W. Va., Oct. 8.—Wm. J. McCauley, an actor of Philadelphia, playing with "A Woman in the Case" company, was shot here by Pearl Newman, who after the shooting escaped to Ohio. McCauley and three friends had entered a restaurant and were talking to Miss Dorsey Brown when Newman entered and opened fire, killing McCauley instantly. Newman is said to have been jealous of McCauley's attentions to Miss Brown.

Because I'd never have to brush a fly from my hairless pate. Flies stay near the ground, seldom getting more than 30 or 40 feet above it. The only flies you get in a skyscraper are the ones that stray up through the interior of the building, and they are mighty few. You will find them on the lower floors, but just keep your eyes open when you are in high buildings, you'll see mighty few of the little pests above the third or fourth floors."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Hired by the Hour.

When Remenyi, the famous violinist, was a young man, he was engaged by a parvenu to play at a dinner, the agreement stating that he was to furnish music from 8 o'clock to 11. He began with an andante movement from Mozart, a composition which opens very low and soft.

The host turned to his guests, "That's just like those musicians," he said. "I hired him by the hour, and see how slow he plays."—Kansas City Independent.

Clara Barton Appeals For Galveston.

LUMBER FOR HOUSES IS NEEDED.

Dealers In That Article and Household Goods Asked to Contribute, Also the Business Men of the Country—About 8,000 Need Homes.

Galveston, Tex., Oct. 8.—Miss Clara Barton, president of the National Red Cross society, has issued a statement to the manufacturers and business men of the country, in which she appeals to them for aid in the way of material to be used in the building of homes for those who lost their all in the recent storm. It is addressed to the manufacturers and dealers in lumber, hardware, builders' materials and household goods and to the business men in general of the United States. The appeal says in part:

Four weeks ago a population of about 40,000 persons were on this island. In one day and night it is estimated that approximately 10,000 of these were either drowned or killed by the fury of the storm. We believe it is reliably stated that there is not one house in the area of the storm undamaged by it. A large proportion of those persons formerly occupying them are entirely without homes or even shelter save such as persons nearly as destitute as themselves can offer them temporarily to their own great inconvenience and cost. The number of this homeless class is estimated at 8,000 or more. Winter is less than two months away. Although a mild climate, still snow and ice are known here. If tents would protect, which they would not, the sea sand and the quicksand would not hold them down; the first norther would leave their occupants as unsheltered as before, and hardships, colds, pneumonia and consumption would finish what the storm has left. Some substantial shelter must be had at once for these people. With this view, the National Red Cross has, with the co-operation of the general committee, obtained estimates of the best architects of the vicinity regarding the material needed for the construction of the necessary number of houses, tenements or homes for the suitable sheltering of these now unsheltered thousands of suffering people.

The following summary represents substantially the lumber and building material that would be required to shelter about 8,000 people in the most ordinary one-story weatherproof houses built singly or in blocks of tenements: Rough lumber, spruce or pine, 35,000 pieces, 2x10, 15 feet long; 4,000 pieces, 6x6, 15 feet long; 3,500 pieces, 4x6, 16 feet long; 5,500 pieces, 4x4, 16 feet long; 6,500 pieces, 2x4, 16 feet long; 15,000 pieces, 1x12, 12 feet long; 80,000 pieces, 1x3, 12 feet long; 35,000 pieces, 2x8, 16 feet long; 10,000 pieces, 2x4, 16 feet long; 90,000 pieces, 1x6, 16 feet long. Tongued and grooved flooring, 90,000 pieces, 1x6, 16 feet long; 4,000 window frames and sash, 2 feet, 10x6 feet 6; 4,000 door frames and doors, 2 feet 8x6 feet 6; 4,000 hinges, 3 inch, and screws; 4,000 hanks and staples; 50,000 brick for chimneys; 7,000 squares of felt roofing, three-ply; 50 8-penny nails; 17 kegs 20-penny nails. Carpenters' tools for 100 carpenters. Bedsteads, bedding, chairs, tables, stoves, crockery, cutlery and sewing machines sufficient to furnish about 700 four-room houses in a modest, comfortable manner.

The havoc wrought by the storm in Galveston at once was much larger in loss of life and property than at Johnstown, but the donations in money so far have aggregated one-third less for both the city and mainland than was given at Johnstown. While the bountiful outpouring of the people's generosity has enabled the general relief committee and the Red Cross to feed the hungry, clothe the naked and render the streets of Galveston partially passable, nothing has as yet been done toward reinstating the impoverished survivors in houses where they can escape disease and enjoy the slight measure of the comforts of which the storm deprived them. Of the material named it is believed that Texas and Louisiana would prefer to furnish a large portion of the lumber. The other building material and household goods must come from those states which produce such articles.

EXTENSIVE AID FOR GALVESTON.

Philadelphia Cash Contributions Over $100,000, Besides Sending Supplies.

Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—The cash contributions by the citizens of this city to the relief fund for the Texas flood sufferers has now exceeded $100,000, and a considerable further increase is looked for within the next few days. Nearly all of this has been sent to Governor Sayers, of Texas, and is entirely exclusive of numerous trainloads of provisions, clothing, drugs and other articles sent in response to the appeal of the governor.

The Red Cross society, of this city, which has also sent considerable cash and clothing and drugs, is still actively engaged in the work of gathering supplies, which are being shipped as rapidly as possible, and money is still being placed in glass bowls, stationed in the central part of the city.

Man Murdered; Arrest Made.

Gallipolis, O., Oct. 8.—The dead body of Lawrence Earwood, aged 20, with the skull crushed, apparently by a blunt instrument, was found on the Ohio river, three miles below this city. Edward Burnett, who was last seen with Earwood in a wagon, was arrested.

Actor Murdered by Jealous Man.

Huntington, W. Va., Oct. 8.—Wm. J. McCauley, an actor of Philadelphia, playing with "A Woman in the Case" company, was shot here by Pearl Newman, who after the shooting escaped to Ohio. McCauley and three friends had entered a restaurant and were talking to Miss Dorsey Brown when Newman entered and opened fire, killing McCauley instantly. Newman is said to have been jealous of McCauley's attentions to Miss Brown.

THOROUGHBREDS.

Who, dear, you young vixen!
Now, Nellie, your look.
So, hoop-la! You've got her!
The beautiful brute!
Hold her in for a moment,
One hitch to my girth,
And I'm with you, my lass,
For the ends of the earth.

Pow, Durce, my nero,
Be careful, dear heart!
See is fresh as the fountain
And rank for a start.
"You fear not?" Oh, no,
But you like your sweet willa,
And we'll give you a breathing!
Away! To the hills!

Go, bathe me, ye winds
Of the withering down!
Brush the scent of the "function"
The taint of the towns!
What is art to this nature
Or wire to this air?
What's a picture to Nell
And her blooded bay mare?

BRYAN ON GOLD STANDARD.

"If there is any one who believes the gold standard is a good thing, or that it must be maintained, I warn him not to cast his vote for me, because I am sure it will not be maintained in this country longer than I am able to stand of it."

This was used by Hon. William Jennings Bryan in a speech at Knoxville, Tenn., on September 16, 1896.

KEEP 'EM MOVING.

The loafers took possession of Knowles' corner, Fifth and Washington, early Sunday evening, very much discommoding church goers. Keep 'em on the move, Marshal Thompson, and you will confer a favor on conservative and well behaved citizens.

LOAFERS.

Young bits of boys make a loafing place on Sunday night on Fifth street, opposite the new building of the Pottery National bank, and indulge in all manner of profanity, vulgarity and bad actions. An efficient roundsman routed them out last night and gave them warning to stay away from that point in the future. Imprisonment and fine will suit the case of these young blackguards.

MITCHELL AND THE MINERS.

The eyes of the nation are on Pennsylvania and the coal strike. Leader Mitchell will do well to exercise true wisdom. A false step may precipitate great trouble. Compulsory national arbitration will yet prove a necessity in this country. The political demagogues who try to make capital for their party out of the suffering of workmen, men, women and children, deserve to be electrocuted.

EVERY INCH A MAN.

Roosevelt is a thoroughbred, soldier, statesman and christian. His conduct on Sunday, at Chicago, when Bryanite hoodlums and blackguards insulted him at the church door, hurling epithets at him so vile that we cannot print them, was very commendable and will win him friends all over the nation. The youngsters were evidently hired thugs and toughs. Yellow journalism is largely to blame for such outrages, and such journals should be shut down by the strong hand of outraged law and decency.

THE RANK AND FILE.

The Christian Herald, of New York city, says: "The contributions sent to India by the United States were not made up of the princely gifts of shipping companies, commercial corporations, banks and mercantile firms which derive large wealth from India and have large financial interests in this country, but were the gifts of thousands and tens of thousands of the rank and file of the people, moved solely by Christian charity." And the News Review says, God bless and prosper the common people—the rank and file.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

There are entertainments and entertainments. The high school lecture course comes under the head of commendable entertainments. They are of a refined nature, calculated to help and strengthen and elevate humanity. They are helpers along the line of educational matters. History and geography and geology and science are made attractive features, and the mind is led almost involuntarily into a desire for more light on these and kindred helpful subjects, with the result that the hearer takes measures to acquire more intimate acquaintance with the subjects portrayed and discussed. You will gain much by attending the coming high school lecture course.

BILL BRYAN.

Bill Bryan is a blatant humbug, judged by his record. Can we prove it? Yes, if your mind can be got away for one minute from partisan prejudice. Listen:

"Does not William Jennings Bryan cry out bitterly against the so-called trusts and their power for evil?"

"He does, indeed."

"Does he not promise that, if made president of the United States, he will do all and everything in his power for the suppression of the trusts?"

"Yes."

"Does he not virtually profess that he has always been the hot enemy of trusts, and that he has done everything possible against them?"

"Yes."

"Well, my friend, let me give you a little bit of actual history connected with William Jennings Bryan; history which you cannot deny; the records of the congressional docket at Washington, D. C., contain this history. Listen! Read carefully:

"William Jennings Bryan was a member of the house committee to which congress referred the question of trusts, and that committee failed to make any report of the matter to congress."

"Consistency, thou art a jewel." Calamity Howler Bryan has a splendid mouth piece; he is an elegant talker; but, as a worker or doer, Bill Bryan is a lamentable failure; while, as a prophet, his record makes him the laughing stock of the nation.

TRASHY SHOWS.

The attendance upon trashy shows and so-called "amusements" has a wonderfully demoralizing effect upon youthful minds, giving them a false idea of life and life's pursuits and unfitting them for practical everyday duties. Very trashy shows have been permitted in this city, some of them vile beyond description, so lewd and wicked as to draw forth hot censure from the lips of men who have traveled much, seen much of the world and who are not over sensitive respecting such matters. One of these men went to one of the owners of this place of amusement and said to him: "That was an awful tough show you permitted in your house." And the owner designated made reply: "The crowd seemed to like it; we can stand a show of that kind every now and then." This office, in days gone by, has been given tickets of admission to these shows, a matter of courtesy, as a rule, between daily newspapers and places of amusements; and when a show was known to be common, or exceptionally trashy, the reporter in charge of the tickets would hand them over to the office boy and the apprentices, and the result was that we were compelled to issue an order against giving them to the youngsters, as they would become absolutely worthless and we would be compelled to discharge them. One boy, who would otherwise have been a good and trustworthy lad, became absolutely infatuated with these vile and trashy shows, and as soon as we cut off the tickets from him, he quit work and went elsewhere. Fathers and mothers will do well to look after their sons in this particular, while our officials will do a wise and righteous thing by barring from our city all so-called amusements as vile as some which have been permitted to exhibit here.

SALOON IN POLITICS.

The saloon has been in politics for many years, and no sane man will dare assert that it has been of any help or benefit to genuine political life. In speaking of the saloon, we embrace the whole liquor traffic; a business, if business it can properly be termed, which is freighted down with evil and evil consequences; a business which has not a single good or redeeming quality connected therewith. The liquor traffic is the embodiment of selfishness. It cares nothing for any political party, save as that particular party will advance the sale and consumption of the damnable product produced. Where Republicanism controls, it fastens itself upon that splendid organization as a leech fastens itself upon its victim, seeking the life blood thereof. Where Democracy is in the ascendancy, it caters to and fawns upon that party. The same rule holds good respecting Populism, Socialism or Anarchy. It revels in the misery and unhappiness of its victims, casting them aside when debauched and ruined, and seeks new victims among the boys and youth of the land. It is a curse to any party or any na-

BEINDHEIM'S.

It is vile beyond compare, working in close companionship and partnership with the gambling hell, the beer garden, the saloon, the free and easy and the brothel. It is the boon companion of the scarlet woman, in whose company thousands of our best and bravest are drawn into a living hell while here upon earth, and who are so bitterly punished as to seek relief in the death of the suicide. We hate the saloon and liquor traffic with an honest and upright hatred, as God commands us to hate sin, and we shall glory in the day when this great government shall prohibit the sale and manufacture of any and all alcoholic stimulants or intoxicants. And may God speed the day of our deliverance as a people and as a nation.

WHISKY TRADE MARKS.

The Distillers of Rum Will Resort to Every Infamous and Unfair Device.

The following article speaks for itself respecting the manner in which the distillers and wholesale liquor dealers of the nation are attempting to foist crime breeding, drunkard making product upon the people:

Chicago, Sept. 25.—The official seal of the University of Chicago will not appear on whisky bottles as a trademark, in spite of the efforts of an enterprising manager of a distillery in Pennsylvania to secure the right to use it in that way. The trustees of the university, says Dr. Goodspeed, will resort to the courts for a restraining order if necessary. ## BILL BRYAN.

Bill Bryan is a blatant humbug, judged by his record. Can we prove it? Yes, if your mind can be got away for one minute from partisan prejudice. Listen:

"Does not William Jennings Bryan cry out bitterly against the so-called trusts and their power for evil?"

"He does, indeed."

"Does he not promise that, if made president of the United States, he will do all and everything in his power for the suppression of the trusts?"

"Yes."

"Does he not virtually profess that

"Yes."

"Well, my friend, let me give you a little bit of actual history connected with William Jennings Bryan; history which you cannot deny; the records of the congressional docket at Washington, D. C., contain this history. Listen! Read carefully:

"William Jennings Bryan was a member of the house committee to which congress referred the question of trusts, and that committee failed to make any report of the matter to congress."

"Consistency, thou art a jewel." Calamity Howler Bryan has a splendid mouth piece; he is an elegant talker; but, as a worker or doer, Bill Bryan is a lamentable failure; while, as a prophet, his record makes him the laughing stock of the nation.

TRASHY SHOWS.

The attendance upon trashy shows and so-called "amusements" has a wonderfully demoralizing effect upon youthful minds, giving them a false idea of life and life's pursuits and unfitting them for practical everyday duties. Very trashy shows have been permitted in this city, some of them vile beyond description, so lewd and wicked as to draw forth hot censure from the lips of men who have traveled much, seen much of the world and who are not over sensitive respecting such matters. One of these men went to one of the owners of this place of amusement and said to him: "That was an awful tough show you permitted in your house." And the owner designated made reply: "The crowd seemed to like it; we can stand a show of that kind every now and then." This office, in days gone by, has been given tickets of admission to these shows, a matter of courtesy, as a rule, between daily newspapers and places of amusements; and when a show was known to be common, or exceptionally trashy, the reporter in charge of the tickets would hand them over to the office boy and the apprentices, and the result was that we were compelled to issue an order against giving them to the youngsters, as they would become absolutely worthless and we would be compelled to discharge them. One boy, who would otherwise have been a good and trustworthy lad, became absolutely infatuated with these vile and trashy shows, and as soon as we cut off the tickets from him, he quit work and went elsewhere. Fathers and mothers will do well to look after their sons in this particular, while our officials will do a wise and righteous thing by barring from our city all so-called amusements as vile as some which have been permitted to exhibit here.

SALOON IN POLITICS.

The saloon has been in politics for many years, and no sane man will dare assert that it has been of any help or benefit to genuine political life. In speaking of the saloon, we embrace the whole liquor traffic; a business, if business it can properly be termed, which is freighted down with evil and evil consequences; a business which has not a single good or redeeming quality connected therewith. The liquor traffic is the embodiment of selfishness. It cares nothing for any political party, save as that particular party will advance the sale and consumption of the damnable product produced. Where Republicanism controls, it fastens itself upon that splendid organization as a leech fastens itself upon its victim, seeking the life blood thereof. Where Democracy is in the ascendancy, it caters to and fawns upon that party. The same rule holds good respecting Populism, Socialism or Anarchy. It revels in the misery and unhappiness of its victims, casting them aside when debauched and ruined, and seeks new victims among the boys and youth of the land. It is a curse to any party or any na-

BEINDHEIM'S.

It is vile beyond compare, working in close companionship and co-partnership with the gambling hell, the beer garden, the saloon, the free and easy and the brothel. It is the boon companion of the scarlet woman, in whose company thousands of our best and bravest are drawn into a living hell while here upon earth, and who are so bitterly punished as to seek relief in the death of the suicide. We hate the saloon and liquor traffic with an honest and upright hatred, as God commands us to hate sin, and we shall glory in the day when this great government shall prohibit the sale and manufacture of any and all alcoholic stimulants or intoxicants. And may God speed the day of our deliverance as a people and as a nation.

BRYAN ON GOLD STANDARD.

"If there is any one who believes the gold standard is a good thing, or that it should be maintained, I warn him that his vote for me, be caused him it will not be maintained in this country longer than I am able to hold it."

This was used by Hon. William J. Bryan in a speech at Knoxville, Tenn., on September 16, 1896.

KEEP 'EM MOVING.

The loafers took possession of Knowles' corner, Fifth and Washington, early Sunday evening, very much discommoding church goers. Keep 'em on the move, Marshal Thompson, and you will confer a favor on conservative and well behaved citizens.

LOAFERS.

Young bits of boys make a loafing place on Sunday night on Fifth street, opposite the new building of the Pottery National bank, and indulge in all manner of profanity, vulgarity and bad actions. An efficient roundsman routed them out last night and gave them warning to stay away from that point in the future. Imprisonment and fine will suit the case of these young blackguards.

MITCHELL AND THE MINERS.

The eyes of the nation are on Pennsylvania and the coal strike. Leader Mitchell will do well to exercise true wisdom. A false step may precipitate great trouble. Compulsory national arbitration will yet prove a necessity in this country. The political demagogues who try to make capital for their party out of the suffering of workmen, men, women and children, deserve to be electrocuted.

EVERY INCH A MAN.

Roosevelt is a thoroughbred, soldier, statesman and christian. His conduct on Sunday, at Chicago, when Bryanite hoodlums and blackguards insulted him at the church door, hurling epithets at him so vile that we cannot print them, was very commendable and will win him friends all over the nation. The youngsters were evidently hired thugs and toughs. Yellow journalism is largely to blame for such outrages, and such journals should be shut down by the strong hand of outraged law and decency.

THE RANK AND FILE.

The Christian Herald, of New York city, says: "The contributions sent to India by the United States were not made up of the princely gifts of shipping companies, commercial corporations, banks and mercantile firms which derive large wealth from India and have large financial interests in this country, but were the gifts of thousands and tens of thousands of the rank and file of the people, moved solely by Christian charity." And the News Review says, God bless and prosper the common people—the rank and file.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

There are entertainments and entertainments. The high school lecture course comes under the head of commendable entertainments. They are of a refined nature, calculated to help and strengthen and elevate humanity. They are helpers along the line of educational matters. History and geography and geology and science are made attractive features, and the mind is led almost involuntarily into a desire for more light on these and kindred helpful subjects, with the result that the hearer takes measures to acquire more intimate acquaintance with the subjects portrayed and discussed. You will gain much by attending the coming high school lecture course.

WAY TO SECURE THE HOSPITAL

Aarons Says His Firm Will Give $300 If the Manufacturers Will Take

AN INTEREST IN THE MATTER

Arlie Fetty Was Minus $5 When He Went Home From Work but He

SOON LOCATED THE CULPRIT

Mrs. Charles Hanley, who has charge of the work of collecting subscriptions, was out last week and met with very good success. She was in the office of the Laughlin No. 2 pottery, and there met with a proposition that may solve the problem of how to raise enough funds to build the hospital.

In the office of the pottery she met Lewis I. Aarons, who appeared to be very interested in the project, and stated that he would like to see a hospital built here. He asked if the business men of the city were interested and Mrs. Hanley told him that the association hoped to have them interested soon. He then stated that if the business men and manufacturers would take an interest in the matter his firm would donate the sum of $300 to the hospital.

A few more like propositions would make the hospital a reality and not a probability, as it is now.

LOST FIVE DOLLARS.

Arlie Fetty Didn't Have a Great Deal of Trouble in Locating the Thief.

Last Saturday Arlie Fetty lost a five-dollar bill from his clothes, which he had left at his home in Dixonville. Suspicion pointed to a boy who had been playing around the house with Fetty's brother. Investigation developed the fact that the boy in question had tried to induce Fetty's brother to go through his clothes, but he refused. The boy under suspicion was given until noon today to return the money.

SNEAK THIEVES

Visited the East End Saturday Night And One Man Lost Some Sweet Potatoes.

Sneak thieves did business in the East End Saturday night and a large number of houses were visited. John Swain moved to the East End Saturday, and the same night the thieves made way with half a bushel of sweet potatoes.

Meetings This Week.

The following meetings will be held this week at the Second Presbyterian church:

Tuesday evening, Women's Missionary society.

Wednesday evening, after prayer meeting, business meeting of Christian Endeavor.

Thursday evening, decorating committee to arrange for decorating the church for the coming convention.

Friday evening, preparatory services; Rev. Snyder, of Long's Run, will preach.

The Horse Ran Off.

Last evening a farmer, his wife and nine-year-old daughter drove to Oakwood to visit friends. The child was left in the buggy, when a stone fell from the bank and started the horse. Levi Boulton went to the rescue and caught the horse, but was kicked on the left arm.

Only Two Drunks.

East End was very quiet Saturday night and only two drunks put in an appearance. Officer Hamilton was after them, but friends took them home.

Personal.

L. W. Lowe has left for Toronto, where he will reside in the future.

G. Messenger, of Toronto, has taken a position with C. E. Foutts.

Moving to East End.

Harry Green, who is employed in the decorating department of the Laughlin No. 2 plant, is moving to East End.

A New Residence.

Ground was broken this morning for a new residence to be erected on First avenue by Dr. Mowen.

Christened the Son.

The young son of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Sanforth was christened last evening, and a large party attended.

I may not be the nearest druggist to you, but I am the druggist who will come the nearest to pleasing you. W. L. Wilson, East End Pharmacy.

SOUTH SIDE.

Named the Officers.

The meeting of the board of elections held at Cumberland the latter part of last week resulted in the election of the following men to preside at the coming election in the two voting precincts of Grant district:

S. F. Rose and W. H. Riley, Republicans; J. W. Finley, Democrat; W. S. Johnson and M. Hamilton, Republicans; A. O. Lowery, Democrat.

The Contest a Tie.

The literary contest between the Independents and Coswins Friday resulted in a tie. There were but two judges, and they couldn't agree.

The game of prisoner's base between the girls of the two societies resulted in a victory for the girls of the Independents.

Demand a Jury.

In the case of Mrs. Adam Goppert against her mother-in-law, which was up for hearing in Justice Johnson's court Saturday, the defendant asked for a jury trial. It was granted and the case will come up again Wednesday afternoon.

Delayed in Pittsburg.

Miss Anna Mullady, a teacher in the Chester school was in Pittsburg over Sunday. She was delayed in Pittsburg and did not arrive in Chester until 10 o'clock this morning.

Quarterly Report Ready.

The quarterly report of the Junior Mechanics is now ready and will be sent to headquarters tonight. The order is in a flourishing condition, having 61 members in good standing and an excellent treasury.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Evans have returned from a visit in the vicinity of Wellsville.

Mrs. John Rowan, who has been ill for several days, is improving.

Making Repairs.

Owing to repairs being made on Third street to a water pipe, South-side cars only run as far as Washington street.

Will Leave Tomorrow.

Tom Bambrick has postponed his eastern trip until tomorrow. It is said when he returns he will bring with him a bride.

Among the Sick.

A small child of K. M. Williams is very ill.

Elmer Dornan is ill with rheumatism.

Open Air Meeting.

HIT ON THE HEAD.

DAVID GOURLEY MET WITH A VERY PAINFUL ACCIDENT.

Some One Threw a Piece of Scantling Out of a Window at the East Liverpool Pottery.

David Gourley met with a painful, but not serious accident Saturday afternoon. Gourley was on his way to the Vodyre pottery, where he is employed as a cup maker, to draw his wages. As he was passing the East Liverpool pottery someone threw a piece of scantling from a window, hitting Gourley on the head, inflicting a bad scalp wound. He was picked up unconscious and the patrol was called and he was taken to the office of Dr. W. N. Bailey, where the injury was dressed.

He was later removed to his home on Fifth street and he was much better today.

ARRESTED ON A SERIOUS CHARGE.

John Foutts was arrested at noon today on a serious charge preferred by Emily Smith, of California Hollow.

The complaint was made in the court of Justice McCarron and Constable Powell went after his man, who resides on Third street. He saw the officer coming and endeavored to get away. The constable captured Foutts near the old gas house, and he was immediately arraigned. The young man's father is now engaged in an attempt to raise a bond of $300 to prevent his son from going to jail.

AN INTEREST IN THE MATTER

Arlie Fetty Was Minus $5 When He Went Home From Work but He

SOON LOCATED THE CULPRIT

Mrs. Charles Hanley, who has charge of the work of collecting subscriptions, was out last week and met with very good success. She was in the office of the Laughlin No. 2 pottery, and there met with a proposition that may solve the problem of how to raise enough funds to build the hospital.

In the office of the pottery she met Lewis I. Aarons, who appeared to be very interested in the project, and stated that he would like to see a hospital built here. He asked if the business men of the city were interested and Mrs. Hanley told him that the association hoped to have them interested soon. He then stated that if the business men and manufacturers would take an interest in the matter his firm would donate the sum of $300 to the hospital.

A few more like propositions would make the hospital a reality and not a probability, as it is now.

LOST FIVE DOLLARS.

Arlie Fetty Didn't Have a Great Deal of Trouble in Locating the Thief.

Last Saturday Arlie Fetty lost a five-dollar bill from his clothes, which he had left at his home in Dixonville. Suspicion pointed to a boy who had been playing around the house with Fetty's brother. Investigation developed the fact that the boy in question had tried to induce Fetty's brother to go through his clothes, but he refused. The boy under suspicion was given until noon today to return the money.

SNEAK THIEVES

Visited the East End Saturday Night And One Man Lost Some Sweet Potatoes.

Sneak thieves did business in the East End Saturday night and a large number of houses were visited. John Swain moved to the East End Saturday, and the same night the thieves made way with half a bushel of sweet potatoes.

Meetings This Week.

The following meetings will be held this week at the Second Presbyterian church:

Tuesday evening, Women's Missionary society.

Wednesday evening, after prayer meeting, business meeting of Christian Endeavor.

Thursday evening, decorating committee to arrange for decorating the church for the coming convention.

The Horse Ran Off.

Last evening a farmer, his wife and nine-year-old daughter drove to Oakwood to visit friends. The child was left in the buggy, when a stone fell from the bank and started the horse. Levi Boulton went to the rescue and caught the horse, but was kicked on the left arm.

Only Two Drunks.

East End was very quiet Saturday night and only two drunks put in an appearance. Officer Hamilton was after them, but friends took them home.

Personal.

L. W. Lowe has left for Toronto, where he will reside in the future. G. Messenger, of Toronto, has taken a position with C. E. Foutts.

Moving to East End.

Harry Green, who is employed in the decorating department of the Laughlin No. 2 plant, is moving to East End.

A New Residence.

Ground was broken this morning for a new residence to be erected on First avenue by Dr. Mowen.

Christened the Son.

The young son of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Sanforth was christened last evening, and a large party attended.

SOUTH SIDE.

Named the Officers.

The meeting of the board of elections held at Cumberland the latter part of last week resulted in the election of the following men to preside at the coming election in the two voting precincts of Grant district:

S. F. Rose and W. H. Riley, Republicans; J. W. Finley, Democrat; W. S. Johnson and M. Hamilton, Republicans, A. O. Lowery, Democrat.

The Contest a Tie.

The literary contest between the Independents and Coswins Friday resulted in a tie. There were but two judges, and they couldn't agree.

The game of prisoner's base between the girls of the two societies resulted in a victory for the girls of the Independents.

Demanded a Jury.

In the case of Mrs. Adam Goppert against her mother-in-law, which was up for hearing in Justice Johnson's court Saturday, the defendant asked for a jury trial. It was granted and the case will come up again Wednesday afternoon.

Delayed in Pittsburg.

Miss Anna Mullady, a teacher in the Chester school was in Pittsburg over Sunday. She was delayed in Pittsburg and did not arrive in Chester until 10 o'clock this morning.

Quarterly Report Ready.

The quarterly report of the Junior Mechanics is now ready and will be sent to headquarters tonight. The order is in a flourishing condition, having 61 members in good standing and an excellent treasury.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Evans have returned from a visit in the vicinity of Wellsville.

Mrs. John Rowan, who has been ill for several days, is improving.

Making Repairs.

Owing to repairs being made on Third street to a water pipe, South-side cars only run as far as Washington street.

Will Leave Tomorrow.

HIT ON THE HEAD.

DAVID GOURLEY MET WITH A VERY PAINFUL ACCIDENT.

Some One Threw a Piece of Scantling Out of a Window at the East Liverpool Pottery.

David Gourley met with a painful, but not serious accident Saturday afternoon. Gourley was on his way to the Vodrey pottery, where he is employed as a cup maker, to draw his wages. As he was passing the East Liverpool pottery someone threw a piece of scantling from a window, hitting Gourley on the head, inflicting a bad scalp wound. He was picked up unconscious and the patrol was called and he was taken to the office of Dr. W. N. Bailey, where the injury was dressed.

He was later removed to his home on Fifth street and he was much better today.

ARRESTED ON A SERIOUS CHARGE.

John Foutts was arrested at noon today on a serious charge preferred by Emily Smith, of California Hol-low.

The complaint was made in the court of Justice McCarron and Constable Powell went after his man, who resides on Third street. He saw the officer coming and endeavored to get away. The constable captured Foutts near the old gas house, and he was immediately arraigned. The young man's father is now engaged in an attempt to raise a bond of $300 to prevent his son from going to jail.

MAY END THE STRIKE.

Mitchell Expected to Call Meeting at Scranton.

PROBABLY A STATEMENT TODAY.

Mitchell Says Mine Workers' Officials Won't Interfere in the Decision of the Convention—Offer of Ten Per Cent Increase Principal Subject.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 8.—A conference, which is believed to mark the beginning of the end of the miners' strike, was held at the headquarters of the United Mine Workers here. Those present besides President Mitchell were Fred Dilcher, of Ohio, a member of the executive board, and Presidents T. D. Nicholls, of District No. 1, Lackawanna and Wyoming valleys; James Duffy, District No. 7, Lehigh valley, and John Fahy, District No. 9, Schuylkill valley. Although no information was given out, it is known that the question of issuing a call for a joint convention was the principal matter discussed. From information received it can be asserted that a convention will be held at Scranton unless something unforeseen should arise between now and the time of issuing the call. Besides taking up the matter of a call it is understood that the question of representation was also considered. The three district presidents made reports as to the conditions as they now exist in the respective districts.

President Mitchell, after the conference, gave intimation that he would have something to say today in regard to the convention. If the date has been fixed only Mr. Mitchell and his colleagues know it. Of course the principal matter to come before the miners will be the acceptance or rejection of the 10 per cent net increase offered by most of the operators. President Mitchell said that not one official of the United Mine Workers will take a hand in any action the convention might take, as the men must themselves settle everything that comes before them. How long the convention will be in session depends upon the amount of business that may be presented. The belief is general that the miners will accept the increase. Most of the mine owners who have granted the wage concession do not specify in their notices how long the advance shall remain in force, and it is not unlikely that an attempt will be made by the miners in convention to open negotiations with the operators looking toward an understanding in the matter. President Mitchell and other labor leaders are strong advocates of an annual wage scale arrangement, similar to that in force in the bituminous coal district. The operators in these regions meet their employees each year and fix the wage scale. If this proposition and that relating to the abolition of the sliding scale are brought before the convention and negotiations with the mine owners are opened, it might considerably delay the settlement of the strike.

TO THWART MARCHING MINERS.

Large Number of Deputies Were Ready Sheriff Harvey Loses Patience.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 8.—It was learned that Sheriff Harvey has reached the limit of his patience in regard to the marching of large bodies of men, and that the marchers must obey his request to remain within the pale of the law or take the consequences. It is known that he feels he has been as lenient with the crowds as he could possibly be and that the action of several hundred men in running across the property of Calvin Pardee & Co. at Lattimer, has had much to do with the decision to be more stern hereafter. A carload of deputy sheriffs was in the Lehigh Valley yards last night ready to start at a moment's notice.

A locomotive was nearby with steam up, and all the telegraph operators on the Lehigh Valley system in this region were on duty for the purpose of sending messages to Sheriff Harvey and to the chief of the coal and iron policemen.

It was also learned that owing to rumors of contemplated marches today all the coal companies in this region had extra coal and iron policemen on duty last night. All the Lehigh Valley company collieries in this city were heavily guarded. This company had squads of its policemen brought here from Wilkesbarre, Mahanoy City, Centralia and Lost Creek.

Sheriff James Harvey, of this county, who has been kept busy during the past three weeks owing to the marching of large bodies of strikers, called on President Mitchell at headquarters. Neither would he disclose the purpose of the meeting, nor say that it was merely a social one on the part of the sheriff. It is understood, however, that the sheriff's purpose in calling was to ask Mr. Mitchell to use his influence, as president of the United Mine Workers, to have the strikers refrain from further marching, on the grounds that the gathering of large crowds has a tendency to create disturbances. It is said that Mr. Mitchell informed the sheriff that, as the orders for marching did not emanate from headquarters, he could not stop the men from walking the roads.

W. J. Elliott, an aid on General Miller's staff, was called on by President Mitchell. The two were together for a short time. The object of the conference is not known, as neither would have anything to say regarding their talk.

FOR FOREIGN MISSIONS.

American Board of Commissioners to Hold an Important Meeting in St. Louis.

St. Louis, Oct. 8.—Next Wednesday the American board of commissioners for foreign missions will begin its nineteenth annual meeting at Pilgrim Congregational church, in this city. The meeting will be in session three days, and will be replete with matters of interest and great import. President Samuel B. Capen, of Boston, will preside. Between 200 and 300 corporate members, returned foreign missionaries and workers in home fields and their wives, officers of the various women's mission boards and theological students will be present, in addition to many prominent Congregational ministers and laymen from different parts of the country. None but corporate members of the board are allowed to vote at the annual meetings, although the others mentioned are entitled to take part in the program. These will be the most important of any meeting ever held by the board since its organization in 1810, owing to the famine in India and the crisis in China, where many workers have been killed and much property belonging to the missions under their control destroyed. Matters relating to the work in those and other fields will come up for discussion and action and officers for the ensuing year will be elected. Owing to the splendid record made by the present officers it is believed that all will be re-elected. The annual reports will show the board's financial condition the best it has been in many years.

M'KINLEYS HAD A DRIVE.

Time For Starting to Washington Today Was Changed.

Canton, O., Oct. 8.—Rain and dismal weather kept President and Mrs. McKinley pretty close to the house Sunday. They did have an early morning drive with several friends, but could not get out during the afternoon.

The plans for starting for Washington today were changed. The party will leave in a special car attached to the mail and express section of the eastbound train about 12:45, which runs through with fewer and shorter stops than the passenger section, which leaves an hour later.

Employees Decided to Accept Cut.

Danville, Pa., Oct. 8.—The employees of the Danville rolling mill held a meeting and decided to accept the 25 per cent cut in their wages, against which they struck last week. The puddlers will now be paid $3 a ton for their work, instead of $4, the price formerly paid, and a proportionate cut in wages will be made in the other departments. The reduction affects several hundred men. The fires were started Sunday and work will be resumed today.

Prince and Princess Were Welcomed.

Brussels, Oct. 8.—Prince Albert, of Belgium, and his bride, Duchess Elizabeth, of Bavaria, were received at the town hall. The royal procession was warmly acclaimed by the populace. The Socialist members of the municipal council were absent from the ceremony. About 5,000 school children participated in the demonstration and sang a patriotic song when the prince and princess appeared on a balcony.

A Victim of Bubonic Plague.

London, Oct. 8.—A bacteriological examination has been made in the case of Seaman Garnett, who arrived at Newcastle, Sept. 23, on a vessel from the Rio de la Plata, and went to Llandaff, Wales, where he died Thursday, supposedly of fever. The results show unmistakably that the disease was the bubonic plague.

Dowie Deacons Sent Away.

Mansfield, O., Oct. 8.—Deacons A. S. Lee and Homer Kessler, of Chicago Dowieites, arrived here Sunday and were taken in charge by officers and sent away.

Li Left For Peking.

Tien Tsin, Oct. 8.—Li Hung Chang, whose visit to Peking had apparently been postponed indefinitely, left Saturday morning for the Chinese capital.

WU'S GLIB EXCUSE.

Sinan-Fu Apparently Temporary Capital.

AMERICA'S EFFORTS A FAILURE.

Unable to Induce the Chinese Imperial Family to Return to Peking—President and Cabinet Expected to Take Up French Note Tomorrow.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Developments of any consequence in the Chinese situation are not looked for until after the return of President McKinley to the capital. He is expected tomorrow morning, and in the afternoon a cabinet meeting probably will be held when the questions presented by the French note will be gone over in an informal way. The French note, which recently has been addressed to the powers, is not regarded as just now of pressing necessity for action, as several of the nations interested have instructed their representatives in Peking to ascertain whether the imperial edict completely names the persons deserving of punishment; and other features of the French proposal contains propositions which can remain in abeyance. This government may not consider seriously the propositions which look to the prohibition of the importation of arms into China and the dismantling of fortifications. Interest meanwhile centers in the report which Mr. Conger will make regarding the adequacy of the punishments to be meted out by the Chinese government to those persons who were instrumental in the Boxer revolt, and the future course of this government may depend largely on what the investigations now being conducted develop. No advice have come as yet from Mr. Conger on this subject, but this is not surprising, as the work to be undertaken is of considerable magnitude.

The war department officials expect that all the American troops which are to be sent from Peking to Manila will be out of China by the 21st inst. Such efforts as have been made by the state department urging the return of the imperial family to the capital city seem up to this time to have been ineffectual. The last official advice of Minister Wu, now about a week old, indicated their intention of going to Sinan Fu, in the province of Shensi, which is further to the west than they now are. The fact that the acting governor of the province was directed to "refrain from all extravagant preparations" in making arrangements for the imperial family, is, to Mr. Wu's mind, an indication that their sojourn at Sinan Fu is to be but temporary. Conditions respecting the question of food and telegraphic communication were unsatisfactory at Tai Yen, in Shensi province, where the court had been located for a while after its departure from Peking, and these essential requisites will be improved in their new abode. Mr. Wu believes that Earl Li, the principal peace negotiator, already has started for Peking, as a message of several days ago indicated that it was impossible to reach him by telegraph at Tien Tsin, as he had started for the capital.

Expedition to Pao-Ting-Fu.

Tien Tsin, Oct. 6, via Shanghai, Oct. 8.—The expedition to Pao Ting Fu is now scheduled to start tomorrow (Sunday). It is reported that the Boxers have placed improved gunboats on the Grand canal to defend the town, although already practically deserted in anticipation of the projected attack.

BRYAN WENT TO C. P. CHURCH.

Spent Some Time Sunday With Relatives at Salem, Ill.

Salem, Ill., Oct. 8.—Wm. J. Bryan rested Sunday in the city of his birth, and spent the day with relatives. He arrived here about noon, and dined at the residence of Mrs. Mollie Webster, his cousin. Thirty of his relatives gathered at the residence and partook of the dinner. In the afternoon, accompanied by James C. Dahlgren, the national committeeman from Nebraska, who has charge of the special car in which Mr. Bryan travels; B. F. Shively, the newspaper correspondent and old friends residing in this city, he went to the farm and looked over the scenes of his boyhood. Last night he attended the Cumberland Presbyterian church, accompanied by relatives. Mr. Bryan was scheduled to speak here today and start on his Illinois tour.

MANY LIVES LOST IN FLOODS.

Whole Villages Washed Away—Thousands of Acres of Crops Ruined.

Tampico, Mexico, Oct. 8.—The Panuco and Tames rivers, which enter into the gulf at this place, were flooded and great damage was wrought in the populated and cultivated valleys above here. At one point, near Chila station, on the line of the Mexican Central railroad, the Tames river is over 50 miles wide, and swept to destruction hundreds of houses occupied by Mexican farmers and laborers.

Many cases of drowning were reported. All the tributaries of these rivers in the south and eastern parts of the state of San Luis Potosi are out of their banks and washed away whole villages and ruined thousands of acres of growing crops.

It was learned later that nine people were killed and a number severely hurt.

REBELS USE OUR TACTICS.

Reinforcements Sent to General Young.

Tino and Villaneuve Show Signs of Activity.

Manila, Oct. 8.—Four troops of cavalry and two companies of infantry recently reinforced General Young in Northern Luzon, where the insurgents were concentrating in the mountains of North and South Ilocos provinces, under the leadership of Aglipay, the excommunicated priest and renegade.

Generals Tino and Villaneuve, who have been quiet for some time, have been showing signs of becoming active as the end of the rainy season approaches.

Of late there has been considerable scouting and skirmishing in the provinces of Abra and North Ilocos, though without decisive results. It is obvious, however, that the maneuvers of the Filipinos are more skillful than formerly, and that the field tactics of the Americans are being followed by them.

Senor Madini, the virtual founder of the so-called Filipino government, who was captured by the Americans last December and lodged in jail in Manila, has been liberated. As he had always persistently refused to take the oath of allegiance to the United States government, he had maintained his reputation among the Filipinos as a resolute patriot. They now believe that he has reached a private understanding with the American authorities which has secured his release, and consequently he has lost some of his popularity, although he is still the leader of the dormant revolutionary element.

This week the commission will begin the work of revising the tariff, making use of the results of the investigation of the army board in this direction. It is the intention of the commission to give American trade a better chance than it has hitherto enjoyed owing to high duties.

RICE WILL MAY BE FORGED.

Experts to Examine Will by Which Most of Millionaire's Fortune Was Assigned to Patrick.

New York, Oct. 8.—Albert T. Patrick and Charles F. Jones, attorney and secretary respectively for the late William Marsh Rice, whose checks they are accused of forging, are still in the toms, whether they were committed in default of $10,000 bail each on Friday last. Attempt will be made, today by the authorities to obtain possession of the will alleged to have been drawn by Mr. Rice in which he gave to Patrick his entire fortune, after dividing about $500 among his relatives. It is the intention to submit this will as soon as it can be obtained to the attention of handwriting experts to determine its genuineness. In the meantime the experts will continue their examination of the alleged forged checks and the two documents which purport to assign to Patrick the entire Rice estate. All of these have been declared fraudulent by at least five experts, but no attempt has been made to discover the author of the alleged forgeries.

EIGHT KILLED BY CYCLONE.

Among the Victims Were One Entire Family.

Biwabik, Minn., Oct. 8.—A tornado passed through a Finlander settlement on Pike river, about two miles north of Biwabik, wiping out an entire family of six, husband, wife and four children. Owing to meager advices, their names cannot be learned. The body of Marowitz, a man that was missing after the tornado passed Biwabik, was found a quarter of a mile from his house on the rocks in a horribly mutilated condition. William Hilmstrom, another tornado victim, who had his skull fractured, died at the hospital here.

Missionaries and Others Feared Treachery.

Tien Tsin, Oct. 8.—The five Belgian engineers and 15 missionaries who had been kept prisoners for many weeks at Pao Ting Fu, but were recently released under orders from Li Hung Chang, who directed that they have safe escort to Peking, refused to start, fearing treachery on the part of the Chinese escort.

To Act as Judges at Pittsburgh.

New York, Oct. 8.—Among the passengers who arrived on the steamer La Touraine from Havre were Messrs. J. W. Alexander, Alexander Harrisson and Anders Zorn, three painters, who are under engagement to Andrew Carnegie to act as judges, at an exhibition at Pittsburgh.

Mine Sold to English Syndicate.

Baker City, Ore., Oct. 8.—A dispatch from London states that the Red Boy mine, near this city, has been sold to an English syndicate. It is said the purchase price is in excess of $2,000,000.

Mitchell Expected to Call Meeting at Scranton.

PROBABLY A STATEMENT TODAY.

Mitchell Says Mine Workers' Officials Won't Interfere in the Decision of the Convention—Offer of Ten Per Cent Increase Principal Subject.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 8.—A conference, which is believed to mark the beginning of the end of the miners' strike, was held at the headquarters of the United Mine Workers here. Those present besides President Mitchell were Fred Diller, of Ohio, a member of the executive board, and Presidents T. D. Nicholls, of District No. 1, Lackawanna and Wyoming valleys; James Duffy, District No. 7, Lehigh valley, and John Fahy, District No. 9, Schuylkill valley. Although no information was given out, it is known that the question of issuing a call for a joint convention was the principal matter discussed. From information received it can be asserted that a convention will be held at Scranton unless something unforeseen should arise between now and the time of issuing the call. Besides taking up the matter of a call it is understood that the question of representation was also considered. The three district presidents made reports as to the conditions as they now exist in the respective districts.

President Mitchell, after the conference, gave intimation that he would have something to say today in regard to the convention. If the date has been fixed only Mr. Mitchell and his colleagues know it. Of course the principal matter to come before the miners will be the acceptance or rejection of the 10 per cent net increase offered by most of the operators. President Mitchell said that not one official of the United Mine Workers will take a hand in any action the convention might take, as the men must themselves settle everything that comes before them. How long the convention will be in session depends upon the amount of business that may be presented. The belief is general that the miners will accept the increase. Most of the mine owners who have granted the wage concession do not specify in their notices how long the advance shall remain in force, and it is not unlikely that an attempt will be made by the miners in convention to open negotiations with the operators looking toward an understanding in the matter. President Mitchell and other labor leaders are strong advocates of an annual wage scale arrangement, similar to that in force in the bituminous coal district. The operators in these regions meet their employees each year and fix the wage scale. If this proposition and that relating to the abolition of the sliding scale are brought before the convention and negotiations with the mine owners are opened, it might considerably delay the settlement of the strike.

TO THWART MARCHING MINERS.

Large Number of Deputies Were Ready Sheriff Harvey Loses Patience.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 8.—It was learned that Sheriff Harvey has reached the limit of his patience in regard to the marching of large bodies of men, and that the marchers must obey his request to remain within the pale of the law or take the consequences. It is known that he feels he has been as lenient with the crowds as he could possibly be and that the action of several hundred men in running across the property of Calvin Pardee & Co. at Lattimer, has had much to do with the decision to be more stern hereafter. A carload of deputy sheriffs was in the Lehigh Valley yards last night ready to start at a moment's notice. A locomotive was nearby with steam up, and all the telegraph operators on the Lehigh Valley system in this region were on duty for the purpose of sending messages to Sheriff Harvey and to the chief of the coal and iron policemen.

It was also learned that owing to rumors of contemplated marches today all the coal companies in this region had extra coal and iron policemen on duty last night. All the Lehigh Valley company collieries in this city were heavily guarded. This company had squads of its policemen brought here from Wilkesbarre, Mahanoy City, Centralia and Lost Creek. Sheriff James Harvey, of this county, who has been kept busy during the past few days in keeping down the marching of thousands of strikers, called on President Mitchell at headquarters. Neither he nor anyone else said the purpose of the meeting was to say that it was merely a matter of the part of the sheriff. It was understood, however, that the purpose in calling was to ask Mr. Mitchell to use his influence, as president of the United Mine Workers, to have the strikers refrain from further marching, on the grounds that the gathering of large crowds has a tendency to create disturbances. It is said that Mr. Mitchell informed the sheriff that, as the orders for marching did not emanate from headquarters, he could not stop the men from walking the roads.

W. J. Elliott, an aid on General Miller's staff, was called on by President Mitchell. The two were together for a short time. The object of the conference is not known, as neither would have anything to say regarding their talk.

FOR FOREIGN MISSIONS.

American Board of Commissioners to Hold an Important Meeting in St. Louis.

St. Louis, Oct. 8.—Next Wednesday the American board of commissioners for foreign missions will begin its nineteenth annual meeting at Pilgrim Congregational church, in this city. The meeting will be in session three days, and will be replete with matters of interest and great import. President Samuel B. Capen, of Boston, will preside. Between 200 and 300 corporate members, returned foreign missionaries and workers in home fields and their wives, officers of the various women's mission boards and theological students will be present, in addition to many prominent Congregational ministers and laymen from different parts of the country. None but corporate members of the board are allowed to vote at the annual meetings, although the others mentioned are entitled to take part in the program. These will be the most important of any meeting ever held by the board since its organization in 1810, owing to the famine in India and the crisis in China, where many workers have been killed and much property belonging to the missions under their control destroyed. Matters relating to the work in those and other fields will come up for discussion and action and officers for the ensuing year will be elected. Owing to the splendid record made by the present officers it is believed that all will be re-elected. The annual reports will show the board's financial condition the best it has been in many years.

M'KINLEYS HAD A DRIVE.

Time For Starting to Washington Today Was Changed.

Canton, O., Oct. 8.—Rain and dismal weather kept President and Mrs. McKinley pretty close to the house Sunday. They did have an early morning drive with several friends, but could not get out during the afternoon.

The plans for starting for Washington today were changed. The party will leave in a special car attached to the mail and express section of the eastbound train about 12:45, which runs through with fewer and shorter stops than the passenger section, which leaves an hour later.

Employees Decided to Accept Cut.

Danville, Pa., Oct. 8.—The employees of the Danville rolling mill held a meeting and decided to accept the 25 per cent cut in their wages, against which they struck last week. The puddlers will now be paid $3 a ton for their work, instead of $4, the price formerly paid, and a proportionate cut in wages will be made in the other departments. The reduction affects several hundred men. The fires were started Sunday and work will be resumed today.

Prince and Princess Were Welcomed.

Brussels, Oct. 8.—Prince Albert, of Belgium, and his bride, Duchess Elizabeth, of Bavaria, were received at the town hall. The royal procession was warmly acclaimed by the populace. The Socialist members of the municipal council were absent from the ceremony. About 5,000 school children participated in the demonstration and sang a patriotic song when the prince and princess appeared on a balcony.

A Victim of Bubonic Plague.

London, Oct. 8.—A bacteriological examination has been made in the case of Seaman Garnett, who arrived at Newcastle, Sept. 23, on a vessel from the Rio de la Plata, and went to Llandaff, Wales, where he died Thursday, supposedly of fever. The results show unmistakably that the disease was the bubonic plague.

Dowie Deacons Sent Away.

Mansfield, O., Oct. 8.—Deacons A. S. Lee and Homer Kessler, of Chicago Dowieites, arrived here Sunday and were taken in charge by officers and sent away.

Li Left For Peking.

WU'S GLIB EXCUSE.

Sinan-Fu Apparently Temporary Capital.

AMERICA'S EFFORTS A FAILURE.

Unable to Induce the Chinese Imperial Family to Return to Peking—President and Cabinet Expected to Take Up French Note Tomorrow.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Developments of any consequence in the Chinese situation are not looked for until after the return of President McKinley to the capital. He is expected tomorrow morning, and in the afternoon a cabinet meeting probably will be held when the questions presented by the French note will be gone over in an informal way. The French note, which recently has been addressed to the powers, is not regarded as just now of pressing necessity for action, as several of the nations interested have instructed their representatives in Peking to ascertain whether the imperial edict completely names the persons deserving of punishment; and other features of the French proposal contains propositions which can remain in abeyance. This government may not consider seriously the propositions which look to the prohibition of the importation of arms into China and the dismantling of fortifications. Interest meanwhile centers in the report which Mr. Conger will make regarding the adequacy of the punishments to be meted out by the Chinese government to those persons who were instrumental in the Boxer revolt, and the future course of this government may depend largely on what the investigations now being conducted develop. No advice have come as yet from Mr. Conger on this subject, but this is not surprising, as the work to be undertaken is of considerable magnitude.

The war department officials expect that all the American troops which are to be sent from Peking to Manila will be out of China by the 21st inst.

Such efforts as have been made by the state department urging the return of the imperial family to the capital city seem up to this time to have been ineffectual. The last official advice of Minister Wu, now about a week old, indicated their intention of going to Sinan Fu, in the province of Shensi, which is further to the west than they now are. The fact that the acting governor of the province was directed to "refrain from all extravagant preparations" in making arrangements for the imperial family, is, to Mr. Wu's mind, an indication that their sojourn at Sinan Fu is to be but temporary. Conditions respecting the question of food and telegraphic communication were unsatisfactory at Tai Yen, in Shensi province, where the court had been located for a while after its departure from Peking, and these essential requisites will be improved in their new abode. Mr. Wu believes that Earl Li, the principal peace negotiator, already has started for Peking, as a message of several days ago indicated that it was impossible to reach him by telegraph at Tien Tsin, as he had started for the capital.

Expedition to Pao-Ting-Fu.

Tien Tsin, Oct. 6, via Shanghai, Oct. 8.—The expedition to Pao Ting Fu is now scheduled to start tomorrow (Sunday). It is reported that the Boxers have placed improved gunboats on the Grand canal to defend the town, although already practically deserted in anticipation of the projected attack.

BRYAN WENT TO C. P. CHURCH.

Spent Some Time Sunday With Relatives at Salem, Ill.

Salem, Ill., Oct. 8.—Wm. J. Bryan rested Sunday in the city of his birth, and spent the day with relatives. He arrived here about noon, and dined at the residence of Mrs. Mollie Webster, his cousin. Thirty of his relatives gathered at the residence and partook of the dinner. In the afternoon, accompanied by James C. Dahlman, the national committeeman from Nebraska, who has charge of the special car in which Mr. Bryan travels; B. F. Shively, the newspaper correspondents and old friends residing in this city, he went to the farm and looked over the scenes of his boyhood. Last night he attended the Cumberland Presbyterian church, accompanied by relatives. Mr. Bryan was scheduled to speak here today and start on his Illinois tour.

MANY LIVES LOST IN FLOODS.

Whole Villages Washed Away—Thousands of Acres of Crops Ruined.

Tampico, Mexico, Oct. 8.—The Panuco and Tames rivers, which enter into the gulf at this place, were flooded and great damage was wrought in the populated and cultivated valleys above here. At one point, near Chila station, on the line of the Mexican Central railroad, the Tames river is over 50 miles wide, and swept to destruction hundreds of houses occupied by Mexican farmers and laborers.

Many cases of drowning were reported. All the tributaries of these rivers in the south and eastern parts of the state of San Luis Potosi are out of their banks and washed away whole villages and ruined thousands of acres of growing crops.

It was learned later that nine people were killed and a number severely hurt.

REBELS USE OUR TACTICS.

Reinforcements Sent to General Young. Tino and Villaneuve Show Signs of Activity.

Manila, Oct. 8.—Four troops of cavalry and two companies of infantry recently reinforced General Young in Northern Luzon, where the insurgents were concentrating in the mountains of North and South Ilocos provinces, under the leadership of Aglipay, the excommunicated priest and renegade.

Generals Tino and Villaneuve, who have been quiet for some time, have been showing signs of becoming active as the end of the rainy season approaches.

Of late there has been considerable scouting and skirmishing in the provinces of Abra and North Ilocos, though without decisive results. It is obvious, however, that the maneuvers of the Filipinos are more skillful than formerly, and that the field tactics of the Americans are being followed by them.

Senor Madini, the virtual founder of the so-called Filipino government, who was captured by the Americans last December and lodged in jail in Manila, has been liberated. As he had always persistently refused to take the oath of allegiance to the United States government, he had maintained his reputation among the Filipinos as a resolute patriot. They now believe that he has reached a private understanding with the American authorities which has secured his release, and consequently he has lost some of his popularity, although he is still the leader of the dormant revolutionary element.

This week the commission will begin the work of revising the tariff, making use of the results of the investigation of the army board in this direction. It is the intention of the commission to give American trade a better chance than it has hitherto enjoyed owing to high duties.

RICE WILL MAY BE FORGED.

Experts to Examine Will by Which Most of Millionaire's Fortune Was Assigned to Patrick.

New York, Oct. 8.—Albert T. Patrick and Charles F. Jones, attorney and secretary respectively for the late William Marsh Rice, whose checks they are accused of forging, are still in the toms, whither they were committed

CHARLES F. JONES.

In default of $10,000 bail each on Friday last. Attempt will be made today by the authorities to obtain possession of the will alleged to have been drawn by Mr. Rice in which he gave to Patrick his entire fortune, after dividing about $500 among his relatives. It is the intention to submit this will as soon as it can be obtained to the attention of handwriting experts to determine its genuineness. In the meantime the experts will continue their examination of the alleged forged checks and the two documents which purport to assign to Patrick the entire Rice estate. All of these have been declared fraudulent by at least five experts, but no attempt has been made to discover the author of the alleged forgeries.

EIGHT KILLED BY CYCLONE.

Among the Victims Were One Entire Family.

Biwabik, Minn., Oct. 8.—A tornado passed through a Finlander settlement on Pike river, about two miles north of Biwabik, wiping out an entire family of six, husband, wife and four children. Owing to meager advices, their names cannot be learned. The body of Marowitz, a man that was missing after the tornado passed Biwabik, was found a quarter of a mile from his house on the rocks in a horribly mutilated condition. William Hilmstrom, another tornado victim, who had his skull fractured, died at the hospital here.

Missionaries and Others Feared Treachery.

Tien Tsin, Oct. 8.—The five Belgian engineers and 15 missionaries who had been kept prisoners for many weeks at Pao Ting Fu, but were recently released under orders from Li Hung Chang, who directed that they have safe escort to Peking, refused to start, fearing treachery on the part of the Chinese escort.

To Act as Judges at Pittsburgh.

New York, Oct. 8.—Among the passengers who arrived on the steamer La Touraine from Havre were Messrs. J. W. Alexander, Alexander Harrison and Anders Zorn, three painters, who are under engagement to Andrew Carnegie to act as judges, at an exhibition at Pittsburgh.

Mine Sold to English Syndicate.

Baker City, Ore., Oct. 8.—A dispatch from London states that the Red Boy mine, near this city, has been sold to an English syndicate. It is said the purchase price is in excess of $2,000,000.

St. Louis, Oct. 8.—Next Wednesday the American board of commissioners for foreign missions will begin its nineteenth annual meeting at Pilgrim Congregational church, in this city. The meeting will be in session three days, and will be replete with matters of interest and great import. President Samuel B. Capen, of Boston, will preside. Between 200 and 300 corporate members, returned foreign missionaries and workers in home fields and their wives, officers of the various women's mission boards and theological students will be present, in addition to many prominent Congregational ministers and laymen from different parts of the country. None but corporate members of the board are allowed to vote at the annual meetings, although the others mentioned are entitled to take part in the program. These will be the most important of any meeting ever held by the board since its organization in 1810, owing to the famine in India and the crisis in China, where many workers have been killed and much property belonging to the missions under their control destroyed. Matters relating to the work in those and other fields will come up for discussion and action and officers for the ensuing year will be elected. Owing to the splendid record made by the present officers it is believed that all will be re-elected. The annual reports will show the board's financial condition the best it has been in many years.

M'KINLEYS HAD A DRIVE.

Time For Starting to Washington Today Was Changed.

Canton, O., Oct. 8.—Rain and dismal weather kept President and Mrs. McKinley pretty close to the house Sunday. They did have an early morning drive with several friends, but could not get out during the afternoon.

The plans for starting for Washington today were changed. The party will leave in a special car attached to the mail and express section of the eastbound train about 12:45, which runs through with fewer and shorter stops than the passenger section, which leaves an hour later.

Employees Decided to Accept Cut.

Danville, Pa., Oct. 8.—The employees of the Danville rolling mill held a meeting and decided to accept the 25 per cent cut in their wages, against which they struck last week. The puddlers will now be paid $3 a ton for their work, instead of $4, the price formerly paid, and a proportionate cut in wages will be made in the other departments. The reduction affects several hundred men. The fires were started Sunday and work will be resumed today.

Prince and Princess Were Welcomed.

Brussels, Oct. 8.—Prince Albert, of Belgium, and his bride, Duchess Elizabeth, of Bavaria, were received at the town hall. The royal procession was warmly acclaimed by the populace. The Socialist members of the municipal council were absent from the ceremony. About 5,000 school children participated in the demonstration and sang a patriotic song when the prince and princess appeared on a balcony.

A Victim of Bubonic Plague.

London, Oct. 8.—A bacteriological examination has been made in the case of Seaman Garnett, who arrived at Newcastle, Sept. 23, on a vessel from the Rio de la Plata, and went to Llandaff, Wales, where he died Thursday, supposedly of fever. The results show unmistakably that the disease was the bubonic plague.

Dowie Deacons Sent Away.

Mansfield, O., Oct. 8.—Deacons A. S. Lee and Homer Kessler, of Chicago Dowieites, arrived here Sunday and were taken in charge by officers and sent away.

Li Left For Peking.

WU'S GLIB EXCUSE.

Sinan-Fu Apparently Temporary Capital.

AMERICA'S EFFORTS A FAILURE.

Unable to Induce the Chinese Imperial Family to Return to Peking—President and Cabinet Expected to Take Up French Note Tomorrow.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Developments of any consequence in the Chinese situation are not looked for until after the return of President McKinley to the capital. He is expected tomorrow morning, and in the afternoon a cabinet meeting probably will be held when the questions presented by the French note will be gone over in an informal way. The French note, which recently has been addressed to the powers, is not regarded as just now of pressing necessity for action, as several of the nations interested have instructed their representatives in Peking to ascertain whether the imperial edict completely names the persons deserving of punishment; and other features of the French proposal contains propositions which can remain in abeyance. This government may not consider seriously the propositions which look to the prohibition of the importation of arms into China and the dismantling of fortifications. Interest meanwhile centers in the report which Mr. Conger will make regarding the adequacy of the punishments to be meted out by the Chinese government to those persons who were instrumental in the Boxer revolt, and the future course of this government may depend largely on what the investigations now being conducted develop. No advice have come as yet from Mr. Conger on this subject, but this is not surprising, as the work to be undertaken is of considerable magnitude.

The war department officials expect that all the American troops which are to be sent from Peking to Manila will be out of China by the 21st inst.

Such efforts as have been made by the state department urging the return of the imperial family to the capital city seem up to this time to have been ineffectual. The last official advice of Minister Wu, now about a week old, indicated their intention of going to Sinan Fu, in the province of Shensi, which is further to the west than they now are. The fact that the acting governor of the province was directed to "refrain from all extravagant preparations" in making arrangements for the imperial family, is, to Mr. Wu's mind, an indication that their sojourn at Sinan Fu is to be but temporary. Conditions respecting the question of food and telegraphic communication were unsatisfactory at Tai Yen, in Shensi province, where the court had been located for a while after its departure from Peking, and these essential requisites will be improved in their new abode. Mr. Wu believes that Earl Li, the principal peace negotiator, already has started for Peking, as a message of several days ago indicated that it was impossible to reach him by telegraph at Tien Tsin, as he had started for the capital.

Expedition to Pao-Ting-Fu.

Tien Tsin, Oct. 6, via Shanghai, Oct. 8.—The expedition to Pao Ting Fu is now scheduled to start tomorrow (Sunday). It is reported that the Boxers have placed improved gunboats on the Grand canal to defend the town, although already practically deserted in anticipation of the projected attack.

BRYAN WENT TO C. P. CHURCH.

Spent Some Time Sunday With Relatives at Salem, Ill.

Salem, Ill., Oct. 8.—Wm. J. Bryan rested Sunday in the city of his birth, and spent the day with relatives. He arrived here about noon, and dined at the residence of Mrs. Mollie Webster, his cousin. Thirty of his relatives gathered at the residence and partook of the dinner. In the afternoon, accompanied by James C. Dahlgren, the national committeeman from Nebraska, who has charge of the special car in which Mr. Bryan travels; B. F. Shively, the newspaper correspondent and old friends residing in this city, he went to the farm and looked over the scenes of his boyhood. Last night he attended the Cumberland Presbyterian church, accompanied by relatives. Mr. Bryan was scheduled to speak here today and start on his Illinois tour.

MANY LIVES LOST IN FLOODS.

Whole Villages Washed Away—Thousands of Acres of Crops Ruined.

Tampico, Mexico, Oct. 8.—The Panuco and Tames rivers, which enter into the gulf at this place, were flooded and great damage was wrought in the populated and cultivated valleys above here. At one point, near Chila station, on the line of the Mexican Central railroad, the Tames river is over 50 miles wide, and swept to destruction hundreds of houses occupied by Mexican farmers and laborers. Many cases of drowning were reported. All the tributaries of these rivers in the south and eastern parts of the state of San Luis Potosi are out of their banks and washed away whole villages and ruined thousands of acres of growing crops.

It was learned later that nine people were killed and a number severely hurt.

REBELS USE OUR TACTICS.

Reinforcements Sent to General Young. Tino and Villaneuve Show Signs of Activity.

Manila, Oct. 8.—Four troops of cavalry and two companies of infantry recently reinforced General Young in Northern Luzon, where the insurgents were concentrating in the mountains of North and South Ilocos provinces, under the leadership of Aglipay, the excommunicated priest and renegade.

Generals Tino and Villaneuve, who have been quiet for some time, have been showing signs of becoming active as the end of the rainy season approaches.

Of late there has been considerable scouting and skirmishing in the provinces of Abra and North Ilocos, though without decisive results. It is obvious, however, that the maneuvers of the Filipinos are more skillful than formerly, and that the field tactics of the Americans are being followed by them.

Senor Madini, the virtual founder of the so-called Filipino government, who was captured by the Americans last December and lodged in jail in Manila, has been liberated. As he had always persistently refused to take the oath of allegiance to the United States government, he had maintained his reputation among the Filipinos as a resolute patriot. They now believe that he has reached a private understanding with the American authorities which has secured his release, and consequently he has lost some of his popularity, although he is still the leader of the dormant revolutionary element.

This week the commission will begin the work of revising the tariff, making use of the results of the investigation of the army board in this direction. It is the intention of the commission to give American trade a better chance than it has hitherto enjoyed owing to high duties.

RICE WILL MAY BE FORGED.

Experts to Examine Will by Which Most of Millionaire's Fortune Was Assigned to Patrick.

New York, Oct. 8.—Albert T. Patrick and Charles F. Jones, attorney and secretary respectively for the late William Marsh Rice, whose checks they are accused of forging, are still in the toms, whither they were committed in default of $10,000 bail each on Friday last. Attempt will be made, today by the authorities to obtain possession of the will alleged to have been drawn by Mr. Rice in which he gave to Patrick his entire fortune, after dividing about $500 among his relatives. It is the intention to submit this will as soon as it can be obtained to the attention of handwriting experts to determine its genuineness. In the meantime the experts will continue their examination of the alleged forged checks and the two documents which purport to assign to Patrick the entire Rice estate. All of these have been declared fraudulent by at least five experts, but no attempt has been made to discover the author of the alleged forgeries.

CHARLES F. JONES.

EIGHT KILLED BY CYCLONE.

Among the Victims Were One Entire Family.

Biwabik, Minn., Oct. 8.—A tornado passed through a Finlander settlement on Pike river, about two miles north of Biwabik, wiping out an entire family of six, husband, wife and four children. Owing to meager advices, their names cannot be learned. The body of Marowitz, a man that was missing after the tornado passed Biwabik, was found a quarter of a mile from his house on the rocks in a horribly mutilated condition. William Hilmstrom, another tornado victim, who had his skull fractured, died at the hospital here.

Missionaries and Others Feared Treachery.

Tien Tsin, Oct. 8.—The five Belgian engineers and 15 missionaries who had been kept prisoners for many weeks at Pao Ting Fu, but were recently released under orders from Li Hung Chang, who directed that they have safe escort to Peking, refused to start, fearing treachery on the part of the Chinese escort.

To Act as Judges at Pittsburg.

New York, Oct. 8.—Among the passengers who arrived on the steamer La Touraine from Havre were Messrs. J. W. Alexander, Alexander Harrisson and Anders Zorn, three painters, who are under engagement to Andrew Carnegie to act as judges, at an exhibition at Pittsburg.

Mine Sold to English Syndicate.

Baker City, Ore., Oct. 8.—A dispatch from London states that the Red Boy mine, near this city, has been sold to an English syndicate. It is said the purchase price is in excess of $2,000,000.

A PATRIOTIC SCHEME.

JERICHO WAS FOR HAVING A DECORATION DAY PARADE.

Pap Perkins, Postmaster, Tells How Horatio Sparrow Sprung the Idea on the Town and How Lish Billings Gave It Its Deathblow.

[Copyright, 1900, by C. B. Lewis.]

It was about a week before last Decoration day that Horatio Sparrow came into the postoffice looking as if he had sunthin on his mind, and as soon as he got the chance he whispered to me:

"Don't say nuthin to a livin soul, pap, but I'm comin around here to-night and shake the town of Jericho from center to circumference."

"In what way?" said I.

"Never you mind, pap. You jest git ready to feel the airth tremble, and tomorrow mornin you kin put $200 more value on your house and lot."

Horatio is a man who never gets excited when he wakes up and finds a cow in his garden, and I felt quite sure he had sunthin big on hand. He must hev told about 50 other people what he did me, as there was a big crowd at the postoffice at 7 o'clock in the evenin, and all expected to hear big news. Deacon Spooner took charge of things, as usual, and as the crowd got impatient he said:

"It is understood, feller citizens, that Horatio Sparrow is goin to launch a thunderbolt here tonight, and it is with more than ordinary interest that I call the meetin to order. Stand out, Horatio, and let's hear all about it."

Horatio stood out. He looked pale, but determined. He'd bin thinkin fur a week of what he was goin to say, and he started off as smooth as grease.

"The drums are beatin a wild alarm. There is a wavin of flags, a marchin of men and a wailin of women and children. War is upon the land. The life of a nation is at stake. It is an hour when men are called upon to give up their lives fur the sake of principle."

"By John, but that's flowery language!" exclaimed the deacon as Horatio paused. "If Horatio kin keep it up fur an hour; I'm fur 'lectin him to the next legislature."

"The farmer leaves his plow," continued Horatio, "the merchant his store and the mechanic his bench. They march away to find the enemy and fight him and die. Yes; they yield up their lives that we may live on in peace, and if we forgit the sacrifice we ought to wither away like a burdock in November."

"Gentleman," said the deacon as the applause had subsided, "up to the present minit Horatio Sparrow has knocked the socks off'n Henry Clay as an orator, and I am proud to know that he is a citizen of Jericho. Anythin more, Horatio?"

"I jest want to call your attention to the fact that Jericho has never had a Decoration day parade," replied the orator. "We hev never paraded and never decorated, and I say it's a burnin shame and ought to be remedied at once."

"By John, but that's a strong p'int!" shouted the deacon. "Hang me if Horatio ain't knockin things endways! No, sir; we've never had a parade nor decorated any graves, and we ought to be ashamed of ourselves. Is it your suggestion that we celebrate the day this year, Horatio?"

"That's my p'int, deacon."

"And it's as strong as a log chain. Yes, sir; we'll celebrate the day, and in order to make it a howlin success I'll agree to take charge of the parade."

"But I object to that," said Horatio. "Hevin originated this idea, I think it's fur me to ride on horseback at the head of the purcession."

There was a painful pause, and then Abner Jones, who was in fireman's uniform, jumped off the counter and said: "There shouldn't be no jealousy about this thing. Horatio would look purty fine on his spotted horse, and the deacon would be no slouch in his cocked hat, but if there's to be any feelin over it I'll take the job off their hands. As I'm foreman of the fire company it comes in my line anyhow."

"I don't propose to give up my rights fur nobody," said Horatio.

"And I'm thinkin I'm the man to boss things," added the deacon.

"I don't want to charge anybody with hev'in too much cheek," said Squar Henshaw, "but it do look a little strange to me to see the way certain folks want to crowd to the front on public occasions. If there is a purcession, it's got to be headed by a man who knows how to boss things and can't be rattled. I bossed the parade the last time we had a Fourth of July, and you may remember that the newspapers said I managed it better than any we ever had."

"I'll allow that the squar did fairly well," said Enos Williams as he shut up his jackknife and got off the sugar barrel. "but there are several other folks in this town of Jericho. For instance, I'm here myself. When anything has happened durin the last 20 years, I've bin pushed behind the currant bushes, as it was, and some one else has carried off the honors. I'm comin to the front on this occasion or know the reason why."

"Why, Enos, you don't purtend that you kin boss a purcession, do you?" asked the deacon.

"Of course I kin. Why not?"

"It appears to me," said Silas Lapham as he stood out and rubbed his hands together, "that we are not workin in complete harmony in this matter. It will be the event of the century. It will be known from Maine to California that Jericho has had a Decoration day, and there will be thousands of inquiries fur real estate. Let us sacrifice any selfish interests as individuals and work to make the affair a general success."

"That's powerful good advice," said the deacon as he rapped on the stove with his cane—"powerful good. I alius stand ready to sacrifice, and I hope the rest of you do. Any further p'int, Silas?"

"You may call it a p'int or not," said Silas, "but bein there seems to be a controversy here I think it better be settled by selectin me to boss things. I don't want it because I'm proud and want to show off, but purely in the interests of harmony."

"I'll never surrender my rights!" said Horatio Sparrow.

"Nor me!" added Deacon Spooner.

"Nor me!" yelled Abner Jones and Squar Henshaw in chorus.

It was evident that the meetin was on the p'int of breakin up in a row when Lish Billings came saunterin in as calm as could be. The deacon seen him and called out:

"Feller patriots, before this meetin breaks up in a row that will send the price of Jericho real estate down to 50 per cent and put our civilizashun back 50 years let's hear what Lish Billings has to say about it."

"What's the question?" asked Lish.

"About Decoration day. Shall we decorate?"

"Decorate what?"

"Why, the soldiers' graves."

"I don't see how you are goin to do it," said Lish as he scratched his ear.

"So fur as I know or hev bin able to find out, nobody from Jericho ever went to war. It tharfore follers that no Jericho man was ever killed. It follers, ag'in, that you might look the graveyard over fur a month and not find a soldiers' grave to decorate."

"Pears to me that you'd better git yer grave fust."

Two minits later Lish was the only man left in the postoffice. It was as he had said—thar was nuthin to decorate, and all the blowin had bin fur nuthin.

Away From Home.

It breaks parents to have their boys leave home, but it is the best thing that can ever happen to them. A man gets a training when away from home that he needs in after life, and which he can never receive at home. It is a grandmotherly notion that a man should be tucked in his bed at home every night until the day he marries and goes to a home of his own; such hothouse treatment puts him in poor condition for the cold blasts he is bound to encounter later in life.—Atlantic Globe.

PLEASANT PRISONS.

THE SPECIAL ONES IN THE ENGLISH PARLIAMENT.

They Are Intended Particularly For Members and Other Persons Who Violate Parliament's Own Dignity, Rules and Customs.

Few persons are aware that England's parliament has its own special prisons within its own precincts which are intended particularly for its own members and persons who violate its own dignity, rules and customs. Of course these prisons seldom are used now, but they have been in the past, and not so very long ago, and may be again. The house of commons has one set and the house of lords another.

The commons prison is a little way up in the Clock Tower. Here are two sets of prisons, intended only for the accommodation of one prisoner each, one set being a little higher up in the tower than the other. Each set consists of a sitting room and two bedrooms, the former being a nice, comfortable room about three by five yards, with a neat carpet and chairs good enough for anybody. The extra bedroom is not intended for the prisoner or for any friends whom he might desire to put up for the night, but is the sleeping apartment of the official who looks after him during his incarceration. This man is usually the supervisor of badge messengers, and, besides looking after his man, he is also his servant for the time being, and waits upon him just like any other. He never need worry himself much upon the question of the possibilities of the prisoner's escape, for the sergeant-at-arms is responsible, and inasmuch as the only way of getting to and from the prison is by way of this sergeant's house and through it, the risk of such a thing ever happening is practically prohibitive.

While he is there the prisoner really has a good time. No restrictions as to hours are placed upon him, and he may rouse himself from his slumbers just when he feels most inclined and return to them in the same way. Practically the only thing he cannot do is to walk about outside just as he pleases, but he is permitted to take an hour and a half's exercise each morning and an hour in the afternoon on the terrace of the house, and the terrace, broad and long and with its splendid outlook upon the river, is by no means a bad place to take exercise. If he were left entirely unguarded, the prisoner might dive into the river and swim away, or, what would be simpler, hail a passing boat. So, just for precaution's sake, a couple of officers accompany him while he takes these breaths of fresh air.

Moreover, there is no question of so many ounces of bread and meat, but if he has the money to pay for it he may feed himself upon the choicest viands that the most cultured palate could suggest. The house of commons has a first class restaurant, where the hungry M. P. may dine as well as he could anywhere in London. Each day the dishes which the kitchen has prepared are indicated on a menu which is brought up to the prisoner, and he ticks off anything for which he feels a fancy, and it is brought to him. The only drawback from his point of view is that the bill is presented to him just as it would be anywhere else, and in the event of his refusing to pay up he would eventually be served with a court summons.

Among the occupants of the Clock Tower have been the late Charles Bradlaugh, who found himself consigned thither on account of a little difference with Mr. Speaker on the subject of the parliamentary oath. When Northampton returned Mr. Bradlaugh to parliament, he was not allowed to take the oath nor the substituted process known as affirmation. Mr. Bradlaugh, however, secured a New Testament and took a self administered oath, after which he proceeded to the next step of signing the roll. He refused to withdraw when the speaker requested him to do so, and consequently the sergeant-at-arms took charge of him, and to the Clock Tower prison he went.

When the erection of the Tower bridge was being considered, a statement was made that the Tower bridge bill committee was subject to bribery and corruption—a serious charge. Two men responsible for it were pronounced to have committed a breach of privilege, for the house is very sensitive upon such matters, and the speaker issued a summons for their appearance. One of them, Mr. Ward, gave himself up without delay, and he got seven days in the Clock Tower prison. The other offender, after a little delay, was captured and was for a brief period housed at Newgate.

The first M. P. imprisoned in the present house of commons, was W. Smith O'Brien. One day in 1846 he committed contempt of the house by declining to sit upon a certain committee. Consequently he was sent to prison during the few weeks that the committee deliberated. This time, however, he was not sent to the Clock Tower prison, which was not finished, but did his durance in the cellar of the house.

"You see, she has a habit of hoisting the window in our room every night. As I usually go to bed last, she depends on me to hoist it. Sometimes I forget it, and then there's a wild squabble. Frequently she wakes me up in the night and asks me to see if it is open. If I don't she nags at me until morning. A night or two ago I resolved to give her a hard scare. I rolled up a lot of old newspapers into a long bundle and laid the package down by the window. Of course she was asleep and didn't hear me. Then I opened the window a little ways and crept into bed. Some time after midnight she nudged me and said: 'Jim, I'm sure you didn't open that window. It's like a bake oven in the room. Get up and see.' So I got up, went to the window and threw the sash as high as it would go. As I did so I gave a little shriek and then I flung my bundle down to the walk below. It struck with a dull thud, and I dodged behind the curtain to await developments. The room was very dark, and I couldn't see my wife, but I heard her raise herself to a sitting posture. Then she spoke. 'Poor old Jim,' she quietly said, 'he's tumbled out of the window in his raggedest nightshirt. What a spectacle he'll be when they find him in the morning!' Then she lay down again and went to sleep."

"What did you do?"

ONE MEAL A DAY.

Pronounced a Secret of Human Health and Happiness.

It is by no means impossible that the newest world lecturer will allude to the delays of the single meal reform. The one meal a day plan was successfully practiced by some 80,000,000 men of the healthiest, wealthiest and most intelligent nations of antiquity for nearly 1,000 years.

No unprejudiced observer can deny that for the vast plurality of our fellow men there is no other practicable way to live up to the principle of the sanitary maxim, "Never to eat till we have leisure to digest."

Nine out of ten laborers have to hurry from the breakfast table to their daily work and cannot count upon more than a few minutes of afternoon meal rest. The same in rolling mills, shipyards, railway yards, workshops and schoolrooms.

Less than a year's time would suffice to give the one meal habit the force of a second nature, and those who would like to form an idea of its universal observance during the classic period of antiquity should read Peter Bayle's dissertation on "Domestic Life in Athens and Rome" or De Quincey's humorous essay, published in the second volume of miscellanies under the title, "Dinner, Real and Reputed."

There would be time for play, for reading, for the enjoyment of art and entertaining conversation.

Sunstrokes would be known only from the traditions of insatiable barbarism. The granger's youngsters would get afternoon sports enough to think life on a farm decidedly worth living. No after dinner martyrdom would tempt truants, housekeeping drudgery would be lessened two-thirds. —Felix M. Oswald, M. D., in Health Culture.

JERICHO WAS FOR HAVING A DECORATION DAY PARADE.

Cap Perkins, Postmaster, Tells How Horatio Sparrow Sprung the Idea on the Town and How Lish Billings Gave It Its Deathblow.

[Copyright, 1900, by C. B. Lewis.]

It was about a week before last Decoration day that Horatio Sparrow came into the postoffice looking as if he had sunthin on his mind, and as soon as he got the chance he whispered to me:

"Don't say nuthin to a livin soul, pap, but I'm comin around here to-night and shake the town of Jericho from center to circumference."

"In what way?" said I.

"Never you mind, pap. You jest git ready to feel the alrth tremble, and tomorrow mornin you kin put $200 more value on your house and lot."

Horatio is a man who never gets excited when he wakes up and finds a cow in his garden, and I felt quite sure he had sunthin big on hand. He must hev told about 50 other people what he did me, as there was a big crowd at the postoffice at 7 o'clock in the evenin, and all expected to hear big news. Deacon Spooner took charge of things, as usual, and as the crowd got impatient he said:

"It is understood, feller citizens, that Horatio Sparrow is goin to launch a thunderbolt here tonight, and it is with fur me to ride on horseback at the head of the purcession."

There was a painful pause, and then Abner Jones, who was in fireman's uniform, jumped off the counter and said: "There shouldn't be no jealousy about this thing. Horatio would look purty fine on his spotted horse, and the deacon would be no slouch in his cocked hat, but if there's to be any feelin over it I'll take the job off their hands. As I'm foreman of the fire company it comes in my line anyhow."

"I don't propose to give up my rights fur nobody," said Horatio.

"And I'm thinkin I'm the man to boss things," added the deacon.

"I don't want to charge anybody with bevin too much cheek," said Squar Henshaw, "but it do look a leetle strange to me to see the way certain folks want to crowd to the front on public occasions. If there is a purcession, it's got to be headed by a man who knows how to boss things and can't be rattled. I bossed the parade the last time we had a Fourth of July, and you may remember that the newspapers said I managed it better than any we ever had."

"I'll allow that the squar did fairly well," said Enos Williams as he shut up his jackknife and got off the sugar bar'l, "but there are several other folks in this town of Jericho. For instance, I'm here myself. When anything has happened durin the last 20 years, I've bin pushed behind the currant bushes, as it was, and some one else has carried off the honors. I'm comin to the front on this occasion or know the reason why."

"Why, Enos, you don't purtend that you kin boss a purcession, do you?" asked the deacon.

"Of course I kin. Why not?"

"It appears to me," said Silas Lapham as he stood out and rubbed his hands together, "that we are not workin in complete harmony in this matter. It will be known from Maine to California that Jericho has had a Decoration day, and there will be thousands of inquiries fur real estate. Let us sacrifice any selfish interests as individuals and work to make the affair a general success."

"That's powerful good advice," said the deacon as he rapped on the stove with his cane—"powerful good. I alius stand ready to sacrifice, and I hope the rest of you do. Any further p'int, Silas?"

"You may call it a p'int or not," said Silas, "but bein there seems to be a controversy here I think it better be settled by selectin me to boss things. I don't want it because I'm proud and want to show off, but purely in the interests of harmony."

"I'll never surrender my rights!" said Horatio Sparrow.

"Nor me!" added Deacon Spooner.

"Nor me!" yelled Abner Jones and Squar Henshaw in chorus.

It was evident that the meetin was on the p'int of breakin up in a row when Lish Billings came saunterin in as calm as could be. The deacon seen him and called out:

"Feller patriots, before this meetin breaks up in a row that will send the price of Jericho real estate down to 50 per cent and put our civilizashun back 50 years let's hear what Lish Billings has to say about it."

"What's the question?" asked Lish.

"About Decoration day. Shall we decorate?"

"Decorate what?"

"Why, the soldiers' graves."

"I don't see how you are goin to do it," said Lish as he scratched his ear. "So fur as I know or hev bin able to find out, nobody from Jericho ever went to war. It tharfore follers that no Jericho man was ever killed. It follers, ag'in, that you might look the graveyard over fur a month and not find a soldier's grave to decorate. 'Pears to me that you'd better git yer grave fust."

Two minits later Lish was the only man left in the postoffice. It was as he had said—thar was nuthin to decorate, and all the blowin had bin fur nuthin.

Away From Home.

It breaks parents to have their boys leave home, but it is the best thing that can ever happen to them. A man gets a training when away from home that he needs in after life, and which he can never receive at home. It is a grandmotherly notion that a man should be tucked in his bed at home every night until the day he marries and goes to a home of his own; such liethouse treatment puts him in poor condition for the cold blasts he is bound to encounter later in life.—Athens Globe.

PLEASANT PRISONS.

THE SPECIAL ONES IN THE ENGLISH PARLIAMENT.

They Are Intended Particularly For Members and Other Persons Who Violate Parliament's Own Dignity, Rules and Customs.

Few persons are aware that England's parliament has its own special prisons within its own precincts which are intended particularly for its own members and persons who violate its own dignity, rules and customs. Of course these prisons seldom are used now, but they have been in the past, and not so very long ago, and may be again. The house of commons has one set and the house of lords another.

The commons prison is a little way up in the Clock Tower. Here are two sets of prisons, intended only for the accommodation of one prisoner each, one set being a little higher up in the tower than the other. Each set consists of a sitting room and two bedrooms, the former being a nice, comfortable room about three by five yards, with a neat carpet and chairs good enough for anybody. The extra bedroom is not intended for the prisoner or for any friends whom he might desire to put up for the night, but is the sleeping apartment of the official who looks after him during his incarceration. This man is usually the supervisor of badge messengers, and, besides looking after his man, he is also his servant for the time being, and waits upon him just like any other. He never need worry himself much upon the question of the possibilities of the prisoner's escape, for the sergeant-at-arms is responsible, and inasmuch as the only way of getting to and from the prison is by way of this sergeant's house and through it, the risk of such a thing ever happening is practically prohibitive.

While he is there the prisoner really has a good time. No restrictions as to hours are placed upon him, and he may rouse himself from his slumbers just when he feels most inclined and return to them in the same way. Practically the only thing he cannot do is to walk about outside just as he pleases, but he is permitted to take an hour and a half's exercise each morning and an hour in the afternoon on the terrace of the house, and the terrace, broad and long and with its splendid outlook upon the river, is by no means a bad place to take exercise. If he were left entirely unguarded, the prisoner might dive into the river and swim away, or, what would be simpler, hail a passing boat. So, just for precaution's sake, a couple of officers accompany him while he takes these breaths of fresh air.

Moreover, there is no question of so many ounces of bread and meat, but if he has the money to pay for it he may feed himself upon the choicest viands that the most cultured palate could suggest. The house of commons has a first class restaurant, where the hungry M. P. may dine as well as he could anywhere in London. Each day the dishes which the kitchen has prepared are indicated on a menu which is brought up to the prisoner, and he ticks off anything for which he feels a fancy, and it is brought to him. The only drawback from his point of view is that the bill is presented to him just as it would be anywhere else, and in the event of his refusing to pay up he would eventually be served with a court summons.

Among the occupants of the Clock Tower have been the late Charles Bradlaugh, who found himself consigned thither on account of a little difference with Mr. Speaker on the subject of the parliamentary oath. When Northampton returned Mr. Bradlaugh to parliament, he was not allowed to take the oath nor the substituted process known as affirmation. Mr. Bradlaugh, however, secured a New Testament and took a self administered oath, after which he proceeded to the next step of signing the roll. He refused to withdraw when the speaker requested him to do so, and consequently the sergeant-at-arms took charge of him, and to the Clock Tower prison he went.

When the erection of the Tower bridge was being considered, a statement was made that the Tower bridge bill committee was subject to bribery and corruption—a serious charge. Two men responsible for it were pronounced to have committed a breach of privilege, for the house is very sensitive upon such matters, and the speaker issued a summons for their appearance. One of them, Mr. Ward, gave himself up without delay, and he got seven days in the Clock Tower prison. The other offender, after a little delay, was captured and was for a brief period housed at Newgate.

The first M. P. imprisoned in the present house of commons was W. Smith O'Brien. One day in 1846 he committed contempt of the house by declining to sit upon a certain committee. Consequently he was sent to prison during the few weeks that the committee deliberated. This time, however, he was not sent to the Clock Tower prison, which was not finished, but did his durance in the cellar of the house.

"Decorate what?"

"Why, the soldiers' graves."

"I don't see how you are goin to do it," said Lish as he scratched his ear. "So fur as I know or hev bin able to find out, nobody from Jericho ever went to war. It tharfore follers that no Jericho man was ever killed. It follers, ag'in, that you might look the graveyard over fur a month and not find a soldier's grave to decorate. 'Pears to me that you'd better git yer grave fust."

Two minits later Lish was the only man left in the postoffice. It was as he had said—that was nuthin to decorate, and all the blowin had bin fur nuthin. M. QUAD.

Away From Home.

It breaks parents to have their boys leave home, but it is the best thing that can ever happen to them. A man gets a training when away from home that he needs in after life, and which he can never receive at home. It is a grandmotherly notion that a man should be tucked in his bed at home every night until the day he marries and goes to a home of his own; such liethouse treatment puts him in poor condition for the cold blasts he is bound to encounter later in life.—Athens Globe.

PLEASANT PRISONS.

THE SPECIAL ONES IN THE ENGLISH PARLIAMENT.

They Are Intended Particularly For Members and Other Persons Who Violate Parliament's Own Dignity, Rules and Customs.

Few persons are aware that England's parliament has its own special prisons within its own precincts which are intended particularly for its own members and persons who violate its own dignity, rules and customs. Of course these prisons seldom are used now, but they have been in the past, and not so very long ago, and may be again. The house of commons has one set and the house of lords another.

The commons prison is a little way up in the Clock Tower. Here are two sets of prisons, intended only for the accommodation of one prisoner each, one set being a little higher up in the tower than the other. Each set consists of a sitting room and two bedrooms, the former being a nice, comfortable room about three by five yards, with a neat carpet and chairs good enough for anybody. The extra bedroom is not intended for the prisoner or for any friends whom he might desire to put up for the night, but is the sleeping apartment of the official who looks after him during his incarceration. This man is usually the supervisor of badge messengers, and, besides looking after his man, he is also his servant for the time being, and waits upon him just like any other. He never need worry himself much upon the question of the possibilities of the prisoner's escape, for the sergeant-at-arms is responsible, and inasmuch as the only way of getting to and from the prison is by way of this sergeant's house and through it, the risk of such a thing ever happening is practically prohibitive.

While he is there the prisoner really has a good time. No restrictions as to hours are placed upon him, and he may rouse himself from his slumbers just when he feels most inclined and return to them in the same way. Practically the only thing he cannot do is to walk about outside just as he pleases, but he is permitted to take an hour and a half's exercise each morning and an hour in the afternoon on the terrace of the house, and the terrace, broad and long and with its splendid outlook upon the river, is by no means a bad place to take exercise. If he were left entirely unguarded, the prisoner might dive into the river and swim away, or, what would be simpler, hail a passing boat. So, just for precaution's sake, a couple of officers accompany him while he takes these breaths of fresh air.

Moreover, there is no question of so many ounces of bread and meat, but if he has the money to pay for it he may feed himself upon the choicest viands that the most cultured palate could suggest. The house of commons has a first class restaurant, where the hungry M. P. may dine as well as he could anywhere in London. Each day the dishes which the kitchen has prepared are indicated on a menu which is brought up to the prisoner, and he ticks off anything for which he feels a fancy, and it is brought to him. The only drawback from his point of view is that the bill is presented to him just as it would be anywhere else, and in the event of his refusing to pay up he would eventually be served with a court summons.

Among the occupants of the Clock Tower have been the late Charles Bradlaugh, who found himself consigned thither on account of a little difference with Mr. Speaker on the subject of the parliamentary oath. When Northampton returned Mr. Bradlaugh to parliament, he was not allowed to take the oath nor the substituted process known as affirmation. Mr. Bradlaugh, however, secured a New Testament and took a self administered oath, after which he proceeded to the next step of signing the roll. He refused to withdraw when the speaker requested him to do so, and consequently the sergeant-at-arms took charge of him, and to the Clock Tower prison he went.

When the erection of the Tower bridge was being considered, a statement was made that the Tower bridge bill committee was subject to bribery and corruption—a serious charge. Two men responsible for it were pronounced to have committed a breach of privilege, for the house is very sensitive upon such matters, and the speaker issued a summons for their appearance. One of them, Mr. Ward, gave himself up without delay, and he got seven days in the Clock Tower prison. The other offender, after a little delay, was captured and was for a brief period housed at Newgate.

The first M. P. imprisoned in the present house of commons was W. Smith O'Brien. One day in 1846 he committed contempt of the house by declining to sit upon a certain committee. Consequently he was sent to prison during the few weeks that the committee deliberated. This time, however, he was not sent to the Clock Tower prison, which was not finished, but did his durance in the cellar of the house.

A DISMAL FAILURE.

The Last Joke He Tried to Play on His Dear Wife.

"I don't think I'll try any more practical jokes on my wife. They don't pan out well."

"Elucidate."

"You see, she has a habit of hoisting the window in our room every night. As I usually go to bed last, she depends on me to hoist it. Sometimes I forget it, and then there's a wild squabble. Frequently she wakes me up in the night and asks me to see if it is open. If I don't she nags at me until morning. A night or two ago I resolved to give her a hard scare. I rolled up a lot of old newspapers into a long bundle and laid the package down by the window. Of course she was asleep and didn't hear me. Then I opened the window a little ways and crept into bed. Some time after midnight she nudged me and said: 'Jim, I'm sure you didn't open that window. It's like a bake oven in the room. Get up and see.' So I got up, went to the window and threw the sash as high as it would go. As I did so I gave a little shriek and the bundle fell down to the walk below. It struck with a dull thud, and I dodged behind the curtain to await developments. The room was very dark, and I couldn't see my wife, but I heard her raise herself to a sitting posture. Then she spoke. 'Poor old Jim,' she quietly said, 'he's tumbled out of the window in his raggedest nightshirt. What a spectacle he'll be when they find him in the morning!' Then she lay down again and went to sleep."

"What did you do?"

"Stood there like a fool for a minute or two and then sneaked into bed."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

ONE MEAL A DAY.

Pronounced a Secret of Human Health and Happiness.

It is by no means impossible that the newest world lecturer will allude to the delays of the single meal reform. The one meal a day plan was successfully practiced by some 80,000,000 men of the healthiest, wealthiest and most intelligent nations of antiquity for nearly 1,000 years.

No unprejudiced observer can deny that for the vast plurality of our fellow men there is no other practicable way to live up to the principle of the sanitary maxim, "Never to eat till we have leisure to digest."

Nine out of ten laborers have to hurry from the breakfast table to their daily work and cannot count upon more than a few minutes of afternoon meal rest. The same in rolling mills, shipyards, railway yards, workshops and schoolrooms.

Less than a year's time would suffice to give the one meal habit the force of a second nature, and those who would like to form an idea of its universal observance during the classic period of antiquity should read Peter Bayle's dissertation on "Domestic Life in Athens and Rome" or De Quincey's humorous essay, published in the second volume of miscellanies under the title, "Dinner, Real and Reputed."

There would be time for play, for reading, for the enjoyment of art and entertaining conversation.

Sunstrokes would be known only from the traditions of insatiable barbarism. The granger's youngsters would get afternoon sports enough to think life on a farm decidedly worth living. No after dinner martyrdom would tempt truants, housekeeping drudgery would be lessened two-thirds. —Felix M. Oswald, M. D., in Health Culture.

To Pack Eggs For Long Keeping.

The yolk of the egg spoils much quicker than the white. For this reason it is important that the yolk should be surrounded with a layer of the white. If the egg is placed on the side or large end the heavy yolk will settle to the bottom and come in contact with the shell, which admits the air. If it is placed on the small end it will always have a layer of white between it and the shell. Eggs absorb odors easily, therefore only odorless materials should be used when packing them.—Ladies' Home Journal.

DRINK COLD WATER.

QUIT BOOZING AND KEEP SOBER AND YOU WILL BECOME FAMOUS.

Q. Hope Jones, the Famous Temperance Lecturer, Cites a Few Historic Examples to Prove the Truth of This Proposition.

[Copyright, 1900, by C. B. Lewis.]

My Dear Fellow Citizens—It is my custom before proceeding to the business of the evening to take up a collection among the audience for the benefit of some charity. On this occasion the subject is the individual who stands before you. I have managed to get along for the last three days on 87 cents, but I can go no further. While there is no doubt that I am worthy of all you can do for me, yet no one need feel under obligations to give. I will now pass around the hat, and as I move among you I am glad to observe that the audience assembled here tonight is one of the most cultivated I have seen for months. I will not be base enough to think that free admission had anything to do with it. You came to hear one of the great questions of the day discussed by one of the great orators of the century, and had the price of tickets been 10 cents each I believe that one and all would have cheerfully coughed up. I do not use that expression in a slang sense, but as a Latin phrase. I find that the collection amounts to 70 cents, and, thanking you from the bottom of my heart and trusting that you may go out of here better men and women, I will now begin:

My friends, I have in my pocket the figures showing just how many distilleries and breweries there are in the United States and just how much whiskey and beer are made every 24 hours

CHRISTOPHER.

during the year. But why give them? Why tell you that 1,000,000 of our population go to bed drunk every night in the year and that the money spent for drink every day would provide all the widows with sealskin sacks and French heeled shoes? We all know those things. Let us begin with Christopher Columbus, who had rather more to do with America than any man who has come after him. I give you his picture on the canvas. You look puzzled and surprised. You can't make it out. You behold Christopher lying drunk on the highway, with a jug on one side and a hog on the other. It is a fanciful picture. I want you to look at it closely and keep it in your minds, and every day for years to come I want you to ask yourself what would have happened if Columbus had been that sort of man. When Ferdinand and Isabella had fitted him out for his voyage, suppose he had gone and got a three days' jag on and had rolled around in the mud and had had three or four scraps with other old bums. Can you for an instant believe that he would have been left in command of the expedition or that this country would have been discovered for the next 50 years? But there was no boozing. He may have taken a farewell drink of root beer or lemonade, as was eminently proper, but it ended right there, and he became world famous as a result. A whole hemisphere and millions of people owe him a debt of gratitude and will remember his name forever because of his abstinence. The lesson taught by the picture is plain to all. Get drunk, and you will be sent to the island for 30 days; remain sober, and you will become famous.

My friends, let me give you the picture of George Washington as he was about to cross the Delaware and gain a great victory over the British. You observe that George is lying drunk with his feet on a chair while the patriot army waits for him to take the lead. You murmur and are aghast. You never heard that the Father of His Country got a jag on. No more did he. I give you this picture as an object lesson, and I ask you where this country would have been today had George gone off on a hoopla at a critical moment? In those old colonial days there was corn juice around by the barrel, and it was easier to get drunk than to roll out of bed, but Washington was a man to withstand temptation. On 12 different occasions, as I figure it, had he gone off on a tear, instead of attending to business, this country would not now be the United States. I never hail him as the great and noble without also blessing him for not filling up with corn juice. The analogy is plain to the dumbest mind. Get drunk and fall over yourself and roll around in the catnip, and you'll die unknown and unwept. Let whiskey and beer alone, except when ordered for cramps, and a nation will sorrow at your death and raise monuments to you for a thousand years after.

The name of John Hancock must always be associated with the Declaration of Independence. His name was the first to go down. His was the first neck to be put into the halter. I give you his picture. He is limpsy drunk and hanging to a lamppost in the city of Boston. The convention waits for him to sign his name to a document which will change the map of the world and bring forth a new nation,

HANCOCK.

then, when he had been out chopping wood in the rain, John Hancock may have taken a nip to keep the chills off, but never on any other occasion. He didn't need whisky to back up his patriotism. He had a cold, water hatred of tyranny, and when the time came to upset King George's apple cart he picked up a goose quill and wrote his name in letters which stand out like red paint on a white door. Half a pint of colonial corn juice down behind his vest would have unfitted the great patriot and left America a dependency.

My friends, I am not here to rail at distillers, howl at brewers or shout at saloon keepers. I am not begging you with tears in my eyes to shun the flowing bowl and not pound your wives or wallop your children. I am not going to spoil your sleep tonight by holding up the horrors and miseries of intemperance. I simply say to you that for a steady all around drink cold water tops everything else, and when judiciously mingled with buttermilk and root beer it produces patriots, poets, philosophers and statesmen. Try it once, and you will take no other. M. QUAD.

What Prompted Him.

A capital story of Rolf Boldrewood, the distinguished Australian novelist, is told. After T. A. Browne had suddenly leaped into fame as Rolf Boldrewood, author of "Robbery Under Arms," he continued for some years as stipendiary magistrate of Albany. One morning there was brought before him a rough bushboy of 14, charged with having held up several other boys on a country road. It was proved that he had presented a pistol at them and compelled them to empty all their pockets for his benefit.

"Dear me," said the surprised magistrate to the juvenile culprit, "what could have prompted you to do such a thing?"

"Reading 'Robbery Under Arms,'" replied the unabashed boy bushranger. —Chicago News.

What They Said.

"Did the girls say anything when they heard of my engagement?" she asked with a little curiosity.

"Very little," was the reply of her dearest friend.

"But they said something?"

"Oh, yes; they said something."

"Well, what was it?"

"Well, most of them merely exclaimed, 'At last!'"

There was a pause, and then she asked:

"Well, what did some of the others say?"

"One of them said: 'Who'd have thought it?' Another, 'Will wonders never cease?' And a third—"

"Oh, never mind the rest," interrupted the fiancée; "I never did have much curiosity."—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Not Bull Run.

On an excursion given by Secretary Langley to the members of the National Academy of Science down the Potomac, Bernard Green, of the library of congress, told the best story of the day. Mr. Green happened to be crossing the ocean some years ago on the Fourth of July, which national holiday was celebrated with great enthusiasm by the Americans on board.

"I say," asked one of the Englishmen, "what is this the anniversary of, anyhow? Isn't it to celebrate the battle of Bull Run or something of that kind?"

"No," promptly spoke up an American. "Not Bull Run—John Bull Run." —New York Tribune.

"A fool can ask more questions than a wise man can answer. Ain't that so?" "I can't answer you."—Indianapolis

QUIT BOOZING AND KEEP SOBER AND YOU WILL BECOME FAMOUS.

Q. Hope Jones, the Famous Temperance Lecturer, Cites a Few Historic Examples to Prove the Truth of This Proposition.

[Copyright, 1900, by C. B. Lewis.]

My Dear Fellow Citizens—It is my custom before proceeding to the business of the evening to take up a collection among the audience for the benefit of some charity. On this occasion the subject is the individual who stands before you. I have managed to get along for the last three days on 87 cents, but I can go no further. While there is no doubt that I am worthy of all you can do for me, yet no one need feel under obligations to give. I will now pass around the hat, and as I move among you I am glad to observe that the audience assembled here tonight is one of the most cultivated I have seen for months. I will not be base enough to think that free admission had anything to do with it. You came to hear one of the great questions of the day discussed by one of the great orators of the century, and had the price of tickets been 10 cents each I believe that one and all would have cheerfully coughed up. I do not use that expression in a slang sense, but as a Latin phrase. I find that the collection amounts to 70 cents, and, thanking you from the bottom of my heart and trusting that you may go out of here better men and women, I will now begin:

My friends, I have in my pocket the figures showing just how many distilleries and breweries there are in the United States and just how much whisky and beer are made every 24 hours

during the year. But why give them? Why tell you that 1,000,000 of our population go to bed drunk every night in the year and that the money spent for drink every day would provide all the widows with sealskin sacks and French heeled shoes? We all know those things. Let us begin with Christopher Columbus, who had rather more to do with America than any man who has come after him. I give you his picture on the canvas. You look puzzled and surprised. You can't make it out. You behold Christopher lying drunk on the highway, with a jug on one side and a hog on the other. It is a fanciful picture. I want you to look at it closely and keep it in your minds, and every day for years to come I want you to ask yourself what would have happened if Columbus had been that sort of man. When Ferdinand and Isabella had fitted him out for his voyage, suppose he had gone and got a three days' jag on and had rolled around in the mud and had had three or four scraps with other old bums. Can you for an instant believe that he would have been left in command of the expedition or that this country would have been discovered for the next 50 years? But there was no boozing. He may have taken a farewell drink of root beer or lemonade, as was eminently proper, but it ended right there, and he became world famous as a result. A whole hemisphere and millions of people owe him a debt of gratitude and will remember his name forever because of his abstinence. The lesson taught by the picture is plain to all. Get drunk, and you will be sent to the island for 30 days; remain sober, and you will become famous.

My friends, let me give you the picture of George Washington as he was about to cross the Delaware and gain a great victory over the British. You observe that George is lying drunk with his feet on a chair while the patriot army waits for him to take the lead. You murmur and are aghast. You never heard that the Father of His Country got a jag on. No more did he. I give you this picture as an object lesson, and I ask you where this country would have been today had George gone off on a hoopla at a critical moment? In those old colonial days there was corn juice around by the barrel, and it was easier to get drunk than to roll out of bed, but Washington was a man to withstand temptation. On 12 different occasions, as I figure it, had he gone off on a tear, instead of attending to business, this country would not now be the United States. I never hail him as the great and noble without also blessing him for not filling up with corn juice. The analogy is plain to the dullest mind. Get drunk and fall over yourself and roll around in the catnip, and you'll die unknown and unwept. Let whisky and beer alone, except when ordered for cramps, and a nation will sorrow at your death and raise monuments to you for a thousand years after.

The name of John Hancock must always be associated with the Declaration of Independence. His name was the first to go down. His was the first neck to be put into the halter. I give you his picture. He is lumpy drunk and hanging to a lamppost in the city of Boston. The convention waits for him to sign his name to a document which will change the map of the world and bring forth a new nation,

HANCOCK.

then, when he had been out chopping wood in the rain, John Hancock may have taken a nip to keep the chills off, but never on any other occasion. He didn't need whisky to back up his patriotism. He had a cold, water hatred of tyranny, and when the time came to upset King George's apple cart he picked up a goose quill and wrote his name in letters which stand out like red paint on a white door. Half a pint of colonial corn juice down behind his vest would have unfitted the great patriot and left America a dependency.

My friends, I am not here to rail at distillers, howl at brewers or shout at saloon keepers. I am not begging you with tears in my eyes to shun the flowing bowl and not pound your wives or wallop your children. I am not going to spoil your sleep tonight by holding up the horrors and miseries of intemperance. I simply say to you that for a steady all around drink cold water tops everything else, and when judiciously mingled with buttermilk and root beer it produces patriots, poets, philosophers and statesmen. Try it once, and you will take no other. M. QUAD.

What Prompted Him.

A capital story of Rolf Boldrewood, the distinguished Australian novelist, is told. After T. A. Browne had suddenly leaped into fame as Rolf Boldrewood, author of "Robbery Under Arms," he continued for some years as stipendiary magistrate of Albany. One morning there was brought before him a rough bushboy of 14, charged with having held up several other boys on a country road. It was proved that he had presented a pistol at them and compelled them to empty all their pockets for his benefit.

"Dear me," said the surprised magistrate to the juvenile culprit, "what could have prompted you to do such a thing?"

"Reading 'Robbery Under Arms,'" replied the unabashed boy bushranger. —Chicago News.

What They Said.

"Did the girls say anything when they heard of my engagement?" she asked with a little curiosity.

"Very little," was the reply of her dearest friend.

"But they said something?"

"Oh, yes; they said something."

"Well, what was it?"

"Well, most of them merely exclaimed, 'At last!'"

There was a pause, and then she asked:

"Well, what did some of the others say?"

"One of them said: 'Who'd have thought it?' Another, 'Will wonders never cease?' And a third—"

"Oh, never mind the rest," interrupted the fiancée; "I never did have much curiosity."—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Not Bull Run.

On an excursion given by Secretary Langley to the members of the National Academy of Science down the Potomac, Bernard Green, of the library of congress, told the best story of the day. Mr. Green happened to be crossing the ocean some years ago on the Fourth of July, which national holiday was celebrated with great enthusiasm by the Americans on board.

"I say," asked one of the Englishmen, "what is this the anniversary of, anyhow? Isn't it to celebrate the battle of Bull Run or something of that kind?"

"No," promptly spoke up an American. "Not Bull Run—John Bull Run." —New York Tribune.

"A fool can ask more questions than a wise man can answer. Ain't that so?" "I can't answer you."—Indianapolis

To Pack Eggs For Long Keeping.

The yolk of the egg spoils much quicker than the white. For this reason it is important that the yolk should be surrounded with a layer of the white. If the egg is placed on the side or large end the heavy yolk will settle to the bottom and come in contact with the shell, which admits the air. If it is placed on the small end it will always have a layer of white between it and the shell. Eggs absorb odors easily, therefore only odorless materials should be used when packing them.—Ladies' Home Journal.

TWO CENTS

ONE PRISONER MADE HIS ESCAPE

Left In Charge of Special Officer McKenty He Decided to Take French Leave.

A LONG LIST OF OFFENDERS

Police Business Was Unusually Good on Saturday Evening and Arrests Numerous.

CAIN WENT TO THE WORKS

The police department was kept busy Saturday night, and the demand for the patrol was so great that in a few instances they were compelled to double up. The bulk of the credit belongs to Officer Mahony, assisted by the patrolmen.

About 8:35 Saturday evening Mahony was summoned to the Williams' home on Fourth street, where Barney had been annoying the family. He had been drinking again, and when Barney drinks he is a great deal of trouble to his folks. He was seeing things Saturday night, and when the officer arrived he had been locked in the kitchen. The patrol was called and Williams was taken to jail, where he remained until Sunday evening. He was released.

Mike Malone was drunk on Sixth street Saturday night, and Officer Mahony called the patrol to aid in escorting the man to jail. He was fined $5 60 by Mayor Davidson Sunday morning, and is still in jail.

Patrolmen Ruhe and Woods found John Daley asleep in the upper freight yards about an half hour after midnight Saturday night, and he was dead to the world. While engaged in carrying him to the wagon another man was discovered asleep in a freight car nearby and he was taken along to keep the other fellow company. When the party arrived at the jail they were met by Officers Davidson and Bob McKenty, the latter having been put on as an extra, and while Davidson and Woods carried Daley into the jail the other fellow was placed in charge of McKenty. Daley was landed all right and Woods turned his attention to the second victim. He was nowhere to be found, and inquiries made of McKenty failed to develop anything that would indicate the fellow had ever been in his custody. McKenty thinks he left him standing in the corridor and that he took French leave. Patrolman Woods knows the man and will get him today. Daley was fined $5 60.

Arthur Penny overestimated his capacity Saturday night and at an early hour was compelled to look up a secluded spot in which to take a nap. He hid himself to the old cemetery, where he was found at 10:25 by Officer Mahony. He took a ride in the patrol. A watch, revolver and a pocketbook were found on him.

Mayor Davidson gave him a hearing yesterday morning and upon pleading guilty he was fined $6 60. He paid up and was released.

Anthony Reagan was arrested by Officer Morris at Seventh and West Market at 9:30 Saturday night. He was very drunk and was allowed to sober up in jail. When arraigned Sunday morning he claimed he had been touched for some $27, but still had enough to pay a fine of $5 60. He was released.

Officer Mahony found Arthur Salting on the railroad at Jethro at about 9:45 Saturday night, and assisted by the patrol, took him to city hall. He was raising a row at his home and indulged in some very vile language toward his wife. The mayor fined him $6 60. He paid up and was allowed to go.

Anthony Manahan was run in by Fireman Bettridge on Sunday and a charge of intoxication placed against him. He was fined $5 60.

Officer Davidson left this morning for the Canton workhouse, having in custody "Crip" Cain, who will work out a fine of $9 60 in that institution.

C. B. McGill laid in a supply of liquor on Saturday night and last evening was enjoying himself on Third street when Officer Morris arrested him. He had not been given a hearing as yet.

J. J. Langley has made complaint before the mayor against Jerome McCormick, charging him with disorderly conduct. McCormick knocked Langley's son off his bicycle yesterday, injuring the lad severely.

Bart Brown had been celebrating all day yesterday and wound up at the corner of Fifth and Broadway, where he set down upon the steps for a quiet nap. Officer Dawson found him there and took him to jail.

When the time arrived for hearing the case against Barney Williams this morning, it was decided to make no charge and arrangements are being made to place him where he will not be liable to harm anyone.

Jack Farmer was arrested by Chief Thompson in Center alley about 10 o'clock this morning and he was boiling drunk, evidently having slept there all night, as he was soaking wet and his clothes were covered with mud. He will be given the entire day in which to sober up.

SOLD TO HER SON.

MRS. THOMAS FARMER HAD A SALOON KEEPER ARRESTED.

Arrived at the Saloon Just in Time to See Joseph Vondram Giving Her Minor Son a Drink.

Mrs. Thomas Farmer, sr., made complaint before Mayor Davidson Saturday afternoon against Joseph Vondram, who conducts a saloon at the corner of Jefferson and Sixth streets, for furnishing liquor to her minor son.

The saloon man was brought down and gave security for his appearance at 1 o'clock today.

Mrs. Farmer says she went into the saloon just in time to catch the bartender in the act of selling a drink to her son, and that she had warned him repeatedly not to sell him intoxicants.

The saloonist claims he was serving him with a soft drink, but he is liable all the same, as there is a penalty against permitting a minor to loiter about a place of that character.

Vandron appeared at the mayor's office this afternoon and signed a waiver to his right to a jury trial. Mayor Davidson fined him $20 and costs, amounting in all to $29 55.

Taken to the Works.

REV. GORRELL'S EARNEST TALK

He Deems the Late Brewery Parade a Disgrace to Our City.

HAS NO UNCERTAIN SOUND

Believes In Making Milwaukee and Cincinnati Beer Headquarters.

BRANDS THEM AS PEST HOUSES

The following article has the right ring. It has no uncertain sound. It brands sin and evil in language which he who runs may understand. We give but a mere synopsis of Rev. Gorrell's sermon of Sunday night, Oct. 7. We are very sorry we cannot give the sermon in full:

"Evil exists in this world, and it will exist while time shall last. But evil can be curtailed and in a measure controlled. The demonstration made by the lowest element of our community upon the day the new brewery was started upon its career of evil and sin and vice; upon its errand of the degradation and debasement of manhood and womanhood, body, brain and soul, was a disgrace to all decency. The putting of flags upon the poles erected throughout our city was a defiant challenge to all good and true citizens. Even the street cars, our common carriers, were decorated with these flags of evil, advertising our dishonor and our shame. The feelings of the good people of our city were not taken into consideration, although this class is largely in the majority in East Liverpool. I, for one, refused to ride on these cars until the badges of dishonor were removed. That young man who resigned his place in the band rather than play for the brewery people on that day is greatly to be admired. He is a hero. One thousand such men in our city would create such a sentiment against the saloon that it could not exist in our midst. It is claimed by some that the brewery might as well be here, as the demand will be supplied, and it would have been erected in some other city. I believe in confining the saloon, brewery and liquor business in as narrow limits as possible. Some cities confine gambling dens and bawdy houses to certain quarters or locations, and there they are kept as orderly as such dens of vice and iniquity can be kept. This is done in order that the bad influence and companionship of the inmates may not pollute and poison the entire city. Smallpox patients, and those suffering from kindred infectious diseases, are consigned to pest houses and there quarantined and cut off from the outside world, or communication therewith. I am in favor of confining the distilleries and the breweries to Cincinnati and Milwaukee, and making those places pest houses for the use of the rest of the United States.

"There is now in our city of East Liverpool an unusual and powerful influence in favor of evil and sin of every character. Note the increase of crime. Note the increase in drunkenness. The patrol was called into play on seven different occasions in one night lately. Prosperity is with us, and the saloon, the distillery and the brewery follow after prosperity and prosperous workmen, just as surely as the vulture and the buzzard follow after a rich feast of flesh. Is the present brewery enacting the part of the buzzards and the vultures? Is it accountable for much of the increase of drunkenness, crime and debauchery?"

STOLE A RIC.

J. L. COPE HAS OFFERED A REWARD OF $50.

The Outfit Was Taken from the
Evening.

Lisbon, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—A reward of $50 was offered here this morning by J. L. Cope, who lives six miles west of Lisbon, for the return of a horse and buggy which was stolen from the square here Saturday evening.

The outfit is described as a brown horse and a new piano box buggy valued at $125. The authorities are searching for one Frank Blackburn, who resides here and who was seen driving the horse out of town.

Blackburn is a young man, but is an old offender, having served two terms in the penitentiary and one in the workhouse for horse stealing within the past six years. In two cases for which he went to the penitentiary the horses were stolen at Wellsville.

He was last seen Saturday night driving through Franklin square.

TWO FIRES.

Both of Them Were Put Out Without
the Aid of the Department.

Yesterday morning a chimney fire occurred in the Firestone block, College street, in a house occupied by a family named Kirchner. The fire department was called, but the blaze was put out before it arrived.

A small fire occurred at the East Liverpool pottery this morning about 8:30 o'clock. A box used to cover the meter, which is on College street, in some manner became ignited. The engineer secured a crow bar, and prying the box loose, threw it into the street, where it was extinguished by a bucket of water.

A PLEASANT TIME.

Knights of Pythias Entertained a
Number of Visitors Last Saturday Night.

At a special meeting of the Knights of Pythias Saturday night four candidates were initiated, two given the second degree and four given the third degree.

After the business was transacted a banquet was held. Oriental lodge, of Salineville, and Silver lodge, of Wellsville, were present and a very enjoyable time was had by all.

The affair broke up in time for the visitors to catch the midnight train.

Admitted to Probate.

Lisbon, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—The will in the estate of the late Emma Everson, of Wellsville, was admitted to probate today and Richard H. Everson will qualify as executor.

The will of Michael Dempsey was also probated and Catherine Dempsey appointed executor without bond. No appraisal.

Postponed the Case.

Lisbon, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—The case of J. B. McKinnon against the Pennsylvania Railroad company, has been postponed until Oct. 29.

WM. WEDGEWOOD ON A RAMPAGE

Extent That an Officer
Was Called.

THEN STRUCK OFFICER WOODS

Rev. Gorrell Went to the Assistance of the Officer and Wedgewood Went to Jail.

A VERY DISGRACEFUL AFFAIR

Patrolman Wood was summoned to the head of Lincoln avenue Saturday night at about 11:30 o'clock, where William Wedgewood was making things very unpleasant for his family and the neighbors.

Saturday was his pay day and he had taken on considerable booze. Wedgewood thumped all the members of his family until he was tired and was about to start on the neighbors when the officer arrived.

When Wood arrived he had locked the door, but that didn't prevent the officer from going in. He had been against games of that sort before. When he finally did get in Wedgewood had gone to bed with all of his clothes on and refused to get up.

Woods didn't argue the point long, but proceeded to take him. This he found to be a little more difficult than he had reckoned on, but he went after him just the same. Wedgewood got hold of a bread knife and was preparing to do some carving when Rev. Gorrell, pastor of the Christian church, arrived on the scene. By this time the officer had his man in the corner and the minister caught his wrist while Wood secured him. It was necessary to use the mace a few times before the prisoner would submit.

The patrol was telephoned for and when the man was landed in jail about midnight he was in his shirt sleeves and was minus his shoes.

From information gathered in that vicinity, Wedgewood had everything his own way for some time before the officer arrived. He whipped his wife and daughter and threatened to kill his two children.

Parties who reside in the neighborhood say it was one of the worst affairs they ever witnessed. One of the children was in the yard with nothing but its night clothes on, while the daughter had the sleeve torn out of her dress. There were cries of murder.

Officer Wood used discretion and prudence with Wedgewood, and although he was struck by the man he did not beat him up and tried to coax him to go without the patrol.

He was fined $6 60 by Mayor Davidson.

REV. JORDAN

Pleased the Large Audiences at the First Presbyterian Church Yesterday.

Rev. Charles G. Jordan, the new pastor of the First Presbyterian church, preached to two very large audiences yesterday. Before the morning service he made a short address to the congregation.

His morning sermon was splendid, and the members of the congregation were well pleased.

In the evening he took for his text, "Be ye therefore perfect," and delivered a very eloquent and instructive address. The special music at both services was very good.

SERIOUSLY ILL.

Joseph Larkins is in a Very Critical Condition at His Home in Sebring.

Word was received in this city Saturday to the effect that Joseph Larkins, better known as "Dad" Larkins, who has been employed in one of the potteries at Sebring, was very ill with typhoid fever, and but little hope is entertained for his recovery.

THEY FOUGHT.

DOC IRISH AND BILLY HIMES ENGAGED IN A BATTLE.

Himes Got Decidedly the Worst of It, And Was Badly Used Up.

Doc Irish and Billy Himes had an altercation on the green opposite Thompson's pottery Saturday night in which Himes got badly used up.

The particulars of the affair are not known, but Irish claims he was sitting by the spring in company with several other men, when Himes walked up and hit him squarely in the face. Irish being of a pugilistic turn would not stand this, and when he had finished his man it was evident from Himes' appearance he would rather have been at the Paris exposition than where he was at that particular moment.

When You Buy Dollies.

A father was commissioned by his small daughter to buy a dozen little bisque dolls. Her instructions were so many and so detailed that the father found himself hesitating to perform the commission.

"See here, Ethel," he said at last,
"I'm afraid I'll make some awful mistake. Don't you think you'd better wait until your cold is better, and then you can go into town some day with mamma and pick out the doll babies for yourself?"

"Oh, no, papa," cried Ethel, "I do so want them right off. And, papa, I'll tell you how to choose them. Just pick each one up and look straight into its eyes, and if it looks at you as if it really and truly loved you, why, you buy it."—New York Sun.

No Flies In Skyscrapers.

"If I was a baldheaded man I would get me an office on one of the upper floors of the tallest skyscraper in town," remarked an attorney. "Why?
Because I'd never have to brush a fly from my hairless pate. Flies stay near the ground, seldom getting more than 30 or 40 feet above it. The only flies you get in a skyscraper are the ones that stray up through the interior of the building, and they are mighty few.
You will find them on the lower floors, but just keep your eyes open when you are in high buildings, you'll see mighty few of the little pests above the third or fourth floors."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Hired by the Hour.

When Remenyi, the famous violinist, was a young man, he was engaged by a parvenu to play at a dinner, the agreement stating that he was to furnish music from 8 o'clock to 11. He began with an andante movement from Mozart, a composition which opens very low and soft.

The host turned to his guests, "That's just like those musicians," he said. "I hired him by the hour, and see how slow he plays."—Kansas City Independent.

Shenandoah, Oct. 8. — Edward J.
Coyle, the second victim of the riot of Sept. 21, who died Friday, will be bursaid, will attend the funeral.

TO SHELTER HOMELESS

Clara Barton Appeals For Galveston.

LUMBER FOR HOUSES IS NEEDED.

Dealers In That Article and Household Goods Asked to Contribute, Also the Business Men of the Country—About 8,000 Need Homes.

Galveston, Tex., Oct. 8.—Miss Clara
Barton, president of the National Red Cross society, has issued a statement to the manufacturers and business men of the country, in which she appeals to them for aid in the way of material to be used in the building of homes for those who lost their all in the recent storm. It is addressed to the manufacturers and dealers in lumber, hardware, builders' materials and household goods and to the business men in general of the United States. The appeal says in part:

Four weeks ago a population of about 40,000 persons were on this island. In one day and night it is estimated that approximately 10,000 of these were either drowned or killed by the fury of the storm. We believe it is reliably stated that there is not one house in the area of the storm undamaged by it. A large proportion of those persons formerly occupying them are entirely without homes or even shelter save such as persons nearly as destitute as themselves can offer them temporarily to their own great inconvenience and cost. The number of this homeless class is estimated at 8,000 or more. Winter is less than two months away. Although a mild climate, still snow and ice are known here. If tents would protect, which they would not, the sea sand and the quicksand would not hold them down; the first norther would leave their occupants as unsheltered as before, and hardships, colds, pneumonia and consumption would finish what the storm has left. Some substantial shelter must be had at once for these people. With this view, the National Red Cross has,
with the co-operation of the general committee, obtained estimates of the the best architects of the vicinity regarding the material needed for the construction of the necessary number of houses, tenements or homes for the suitable sheltering of these now unsheltered thousands of suffering people.

The following summary represents substantially the lumber and building material that would be required to shelter about 8,000 people in the most ordinary one-story weatherproof houses built singly or in blocks of tenements:
Rough lumber, spruce or pine, 35,000 pieces, 2x10, 15 feet long; 4,000 pieces, 6x6, 15 feet long; 3,500 pieces, 4x6, 16
feet long; 5,500 pieces, 4x4, 16 feet long; 6,500 pieces, 2x4, 16 feet long;
15,000 pieces, 1x12, 12 feet long; 80,000
pieces, 1x3, 12 feet long; 35,000 pieces,
2x8, 16 feet long; 10,000 pieces, 2x4,
16 feet long; 90,000 pieces, 1x6, 16 feet long. Tongued and grooved flooring,
90,000 pieces, 1x6, 16 feet long; 4,000 window frames and sash, 2 feet, 10x6 feet 6; 4,000 door frames and doors, 2 feet 8x6 feet 6; 4,000 hinges, 3 inch, and screws; 4,000 hanks and staples; 50,000 brick for chimneys; 7,000 squares of felt roofing, three-ply; 50 8-penny nails; 17 kegs 20-penny nails. Carpenters' tools for 100 carpenters. Bedsteads, bedding, chairs, tables, stoves, crockery, cutlery and sewing machines sufficient to furnish about 700 four-room houses in a modest, comfortable manner.

The havoc wrought by the storm in Galveston at once was much larger in loss of life and property than at Johnstown, but the donations in money so far have aggregated one-third less for both the city and mainland than was given at Johnstown. While the bountiful outpouring of the people's generosity has enabled the general reher committee and the Red Cross to feed the hungry, clothe the naked and renpassable, nothing has as yet been done toward reinstating the impoverished survivors in houses where they can escape disease and enjoy the slight measure of the comforts of which the storm deprived them. Of the material named it is believed that Texas and Louisiana would prefer to furnish a large portion of the lumber. The other building material and household goods must come from those states which produce such articles.

EXTENSIVE AID FOR GALVESTON.

Philadelphia Cash Contributions Over $100,000, Besides Sending Supplies.

Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—The cash contributions by the citizens of this city to the relief fund for the Texas flood sufferers has now exceeded $100,000, and a considerable further increase is looked for within the next few days.
Nearly all of this has been sent to Governor Sayers, of Texas, and is entirely exclusive of numerous trainloads of provisions, clothing, drugs and other articles sent in response to the appeal of the governor.

The Red Cross society, of this city, which has also sent considerable cash and clothing and drugs, is still actively engaged in the work of gathering supplies, which are being shipped as rapidly as possible, and money is still being placed in glass bowls, stationed in the central part of the city.

Man Murdered; Arrest Made.

Gallipolis, O., Oct. 8.—The dead body of Lawrence Earwood, aged 20, with the skull crushed, apparently by a blunt instrument, was found on the Ohio river, three miles below this city.
Edward Burnett, who was last seen with Earwood in a wagon, was arrested.

Actor Murdered by Jealous Man.

Huntington, W. Va., Oct. 8.—Wm. J.
McCauley, an actor of Philadelphia, playing with "A Woman in the Case" company, was shot here by Pearl Newman, who after the shooting escaped to Ohio. McCauley and three friends had entered a restaurant and were talking to Miss Dorsey Brown when Newman entered and opened fire, killing McCauley instantly. Newman is said to have been jealous of McCau-ley's attentions to Miss Brown.

THE WEATHER.

Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia: Clearing and colder today; tomorrow fair and continued cool;
fresh to brisk northwesterly winds.

Ohio: Generally fair today and tomorrow; colder in eastern and southern portions today; brisk northwesterly winds.

THOROUGH-BREDS.

Whe, dea, you young vixen!
Now, Nellie, your foot.
So, hoop-la! You've got her!
The beautiful brute!
Hold her in for a moment,
One hitch to my girth,
And I'm with you, my lass,
For the ends of the earth.

Now, Durce, my nero,
Be careful, dear heart!
Sue is fresh as the fountain
And rank for a start.
"You fear not?" Oh, no,
But you like your sweet willie,
And we'll give you a breathing!
Away! To the hills!

Go, bathe me, ye winds
Of the withering down!
Brush the scent of the "functions,"
The taint of the towns!
What is art to this nature
Or wire to this air?
What's a picture to Nell
And her blooded bay mare?

BRYAN ON GOLD STANDARD.

"If there is any one who believes the gold standard is a good thing, or that it should be maintained, I warn him not to cast his vote for me, because I am not going to maintain it in this country longer than I am able to hold of it."

This was used by Hon. William Jennings Bryan in a speech at Knoxville, Tenn., on September 16, 1896.

KEEP 'EM MOVING.

The loafers took possession of Knowles' corner, Fifth and Washington, early Sunday evening, very much discommoding church goers. Keep 'em on the move, Marshal Thompson, and you will confer a favor on conservative and well behaved citizens.

LOAFERS.

Young bits of boys make a loafing place on Sunday night on Fifth street, opposite the new building of the Pottery National bank, and indulge in all manner of profanity, vulgarity and bad actions. An efficient roundsman routed them out last night and gave them warning to stay away from that point in the future. Imprisonment and fine will suit the case of these young blackguards.

MITCHELL AND THE MINERS.

The eyes of the nation are on Pennsylvania and the coal strike. Leader Mitchell will do well to exercise true wisdom. A false step may precipitate great trouble. Compulsory national arbitration will yet prove a necessity in this country. The political demagogues who try to make capital for their party out of the suffering of workmen, men, women and children, deserve to be electrocuted.

EVERY INCH A MAN.

Roosevelt is a thoroughbred, soldier, statesman and christian. His conduct on Sunday, at Chicago, when Bryanite hoodlums and blackguards insulted him at the church door, hurling epithets at him so vile that we cannot print them, was very commendable and will win him friends all over the nation. The youngsters were evidently hired thugs and toughs. Yellow journalism is largely to blame for such outrages, and such journals should be shut down by the strong hand of outraged law and decency.

THE RANK AND FILE.

The Christian Herald, of New York city, says: "The contributions sent to India by the United States were not made up of the princely gifts of shipping companies, commercial corporations, banks and mercantile firms which derive large wealth from India and have large financial interests in this country, but were the gifts of thousands and tens of thousands of the rank and file of the people, moved solely by Christian charity." And the News Review says, God bless and prosper the common people—the rank and file.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

There are entertainments and entertainments. The high school lecture course comes under the head of commendable entertainments. They are of a refined nature, calculated to help and strengthen and elevate humanity. They are helpers along the line of educational matters. History and geography and geology and science are made attractive features, and the mind is led almost involuntarily into a desire for more light on these and kindred helpful subjects, with the result that the hearer takes measures to acquire more intimate acquaintance with the subjects portrayed and discussed. You will gain much by attending the coming high school lecture course.

BILL BRYAN.

Bill Bryan is a blatant humbug, judged by his record. Can we prove it? Yes, if your mind can be got away for one minute from partisan prejudice. Listen:

"Does not William Jennings Bryan cry out bitterly against the so-called trusts and their power for evil?"

"He does, indeed."

"Does he not promise that, if made president of the United States, he will do all and everything in his power for the suppression of the trusts?"

"Yes."

"Does he not virtually profess that he has always been the hot enemy of trusts, and that he has done everything possible against them?"

"Yes."
"Well, my friend, let me give you a little bit of actual history connected with William Jennings Bryan; history which you cannot deny; the records of the congressional docket at Washington, D. C., contain this history. Listen! Read carefully:

"William Jennings Bryan was a member of the house committee to which congress referred the question of trusts, and that committee failed to make any report of the matter to congress."

"Consistency, thou art a jewel." Calamity Howler Bryan has a splendid mouth piece; he is an elegant talker; but, as a worker or doer, Bill Bryan is a lamentable failure; while, as a prophet, his record makes him the laughing stock of the nation.

TRASHY SHOWS.

The attendance upon trashy shows and so-called "amusements" has a wonderfully demoralizing effect upon youthful minds, giving them a false idea of life and life's pursuits and unfitting them for practical everyday duties. Very trashy shows have been permitted in this city, some of them vile beyond description, so lewd and wicked as to draw forth hot censure from the lips of men who have traveled much, seen much of the world and who are not over sensitive respecting such matters. One of these men went to one of the owners of this place of amusement and said to him: "That was an awful tough show you permitted in your house." And the owner designated made reply: "The crowd seemed to like it; we can stand a show of that kind every now and then." This office, in days gone by, has been given tickets of admission to these shows, a matter of courtesy, as a rule, between daily newspapers and places of amusements; and when a show was known to be common, or exceptionally trashy, the reporter in charge of the tickets would hand them over to the office boy and the apprentices, and the result was that we were compelled to issue an order against giving them to the youngsters, as they would become absolutely worthless and we would be compelled to discharge them. One boy, who would otherwise have been a good and trustworthy lad, became absolutely infatuated with these vile and trashy shows, and as soon as we cut off the tickets from him, he quit work and went elsewhere. Fathers and mothers will do well to look after their sons in this particular, while our officials will do a wise and righteous thing by barring from our city all so-called amusements as vile as some which have been permitted to exhibit here.

SALOON IN POLITICS.

The saloon has been in politics for many years, and no sane man will dare assert that it has been of any help or benefit to genuine political life. In speaking of the saloon, we embrace the whole liquor traffic; a business, if business it can properly be termed, which is freighted down with evil and evil consequences; a business which has not a single good or redeeming quality connected therewith. The liquor traffic is the embodiment of selfishness. It cares nothing for any political party, save as that particular party will advance the sale and consumption of the damnable product produced. Where Republicanism controls, it fastens itself upon that splendid organization as a leech fastens itself upon its victim, seeking the life blood thereof. Where Democracy is in the ascendancy, it caters to and fawns upon that party. The same rule holds good respecting Populism, Socialism or Anarchy. It revels in the misery and unhappiness of its victims, casting them aside when debauched and ruined, and seeks new victims among the boys and youth of the land. It is a curse to any party or any nation. It is vile beyond compare, working in close companionship and partnership with the gambling hell, the beer garden, the saloon, the free and easy and the brothel. It is the boon companion of the scarlet woman, in whose company thousands of our best and bravest are drawn into a living hell while here upon earth, and who are so bitterly punished as to seek relief in the death of the suicide. We hate the saloon and liquor traffic with an honest and upright hatred, as God commands us to hate sin, and we shall glory in the day when this great government shall prohibit the sale and manufacture of any and all alcoholic stimulants or intoxicants. And may God speed the day of our deliverance as a people and as a nation.

WHISKY TRADE MARKS.

The Distillers of Rum Will Resort to Every Infamous and Unfair Device.

The following article speaks for itself respecting the manner in which the distillers and wholesale liquor dealers of the nation are attempting to foist crime breeding, drunkard making product upon the people:

Chicago, Sept. 25.—The official seal of the University of Chicago will not appear on whisky bottles as a trademark, in spite of the efforts of an enterprising manager of a distillery in Pennsylvania to secure the right to use it in that way. The trustees of the university, says Dr. Goodspeed, will resort to the courts for a restraining order if necessary. The last edition of the Patent Office Gazette containing the announcement of a grant authorizing the use of the seals of Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Cornell, Lehigh, Pennsylvania, Columbia, Chicago, Oxford and Cambridge as trade marks for whisky.

WAY TO SECURE THE HOSPITAL

Aarons Says His Firm Will Give $300 If the Manufacturers Will Take

AN INTEREST IN THE MATTER

Arlie Fetty Was Minus $5 When He Went Home From Work but He

SOON LOCATED THE CULPRIT

Mrs. Charles Hanley, who has charge of the work of collecting subscriptions, was out last week and met with very good success. She was in the office of the Laughlin No. 2 pottery, and there met with a proposition that may solve the problem of how to raise enough funds to build the hospital.

In the office of the pottery she met Lewis I. Aarons, who appeared to be very interested in the project, and stated that he would like to see a hospital built here. He asked if the business men of the city were interested and Mrs. Hanley told him that the association hoped to have them interested soon. He then stated that if the business men and manufacturers would take an interest in the matter his firm would donate the sum of $300 to the hospital.

A few more like propositions would make the hospital a reality and not a probability, as it is now.

LOST FIVE DOLLARS.

Arlie Fetty Didn't Have a Great Deal of Trouble in Locating the Thief.

Last Saturday Arlie Fetty lost a five-dollar bill from his clothes, which he had left at his home in Dixonville. Suspicion pointed to a boy who had been playing around the house with Fetty's brother. Investigation developed the fact that the boy in question had tried to induce Fetty's brother to go through his clothes, but he refused. The boy under suspicion was given until noon today to return the money.

SNEAK THIEVES

Visited the East End Saturday Night And One Man Lost Some Sweet Potatoes.

Sneak thieves did business in the East End Saturday night and a large number of houses were visited. John Swain moved to the East End Saturday, and the same night the thieves made way with half a bushel of sweet potatoes.

Meetings This Week.

The following meetings will be held this week at the Second Presbyterian church:

Tuesday evening, Women's Missionary society.

Wednesday evening, after prayer meeting, business meeting of Christian Endeavor.

Thursday evening, decorating committee to arrange for decorating the church for the coming convention.

The Horse Ran Off.

Last evening a farmer, his wife and nine-year-old daughter drove to Oakwood to visit friends. The child was left in the buggy, when a stone fell from the bank and started the horse. Levi Boulton went to the rescue and caught the horse, but was kicked on the left arm.

Only Two Drunks.

East End was very quiet Saturday night and only two drunks put in an appearance. Officer Hamilton was after them, but friends took them home.

Personal.

L. W. Lowe has left for Toronto, where he will reside in the future.

G. Messenger, of Toronto, has taken a position with C. E. Foutts.

Moving to East End.

Harry Green, who is employed in the decorating department of the Laughlin No. 2 plant, is moving to East End.

A New Residence.

Ground was broken this morning for a new residence to be erected on First avenue by Dr. Mowen.

Christened the Son.

The young son of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Sanforth was christened last evening, and a large party attended.

I may not be the nearest druggist to you, but I am the druggist who will come the nearest to pleasing you. W. L. Wilson, East End Pharmacy.

SOUTH SIDE.

Named the Officers.

The meeting of the board of elections held at Cumberland the latter part of last week resulted in the election of the following men to preside at the coming election in the two voting precincts of Grant district:

S. F. Rose and W. H. Riley, Republicans; J. W. Finley, Democrat; W. S. Johnson and M. Hamilton, Republicans, A. O. Lowery, Democrat.

The Contest a Tie.

The literary contest between the Independents and Coswins Friday resulted in a tie. There were but two judges, and they couldn't agree.

Demanded a Jury.

In the case of Mrs. Adam Goppert against her mother-in-law, which was up for hearing in Justice Johnson's court Saturday, the defendant asked for a jury trial. It was granted and the case will come up again Wednesday afternoon.

Delayed in Pittsburg.

Miss Anna Mullady, a teacher in the Chester school was in Pittsburg over Sunday. She was delayed in Pittsburg and did not arrive in Chester until 10 o'clock this morning.

Quarterly Report Ready.

The quarterly report of the Junior Mechanics is now ready and will be sent to headquarters tonight. The order is in a flourishing condition, having 61 members in good standing and an excellent treasury.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Evans have returned from a visit in the vicinity of Wellsville.

Mrs. John Rowan, who has been ill for several days, is improving.

Making Repairs.

Owing to repairs being made on Third street to a water pipe, Southside cars only run as far as Washington street.

Will Leave Tomorrow.

Tom Bambrick has postponed his eastern trip until tomorrow. It is said when he returns he will bring with him a bride.

Among the Sick.

A small child of K. M. Williams is very ill.

Elmer Dornan is ill with rheumatism.

Open Air Meeting.

The Free Methodists held an open air meeting near the West Virginia approach to the bridge Sunday evening. It was well attended.

Personal.

Elmer Dornan and James Gibson spent Sunday in Cumberland.

HIT ON THE HEAD.

DAVID GOURLEY MET WITH A VERY PAINFUL ACCIDENT.

Some One Threw a Piece of Scantling Out of a Window at the East Liverpool Pottery.

David Gourley met with a painful, but not serious accident Saturday afternoon. Gourley was on his way to the Vodrey pottery, where he is employed as a cup maker, to draw his wages. As he was passing the East Liverpool pottery someone threw a piece of scantling from a window, hitting Gourley on the head, inflicting a bad scalp wound. He was picked up unconscious and the patrol was called and he was taken to the office of Dr. W. N. Bailey, where the injury was dressed.

He was later removed to his home on Fifth street and he was much better today.

ARRESTED ON A SERIOUS CHARGE.

John Foutts was arrested at noon today on a serious charge preferred by Emily Smith, of California Hollow.

The complaint was made in the court of Justice McCarron and Constable Powell went after his man, who resides on Third street. He saw the officer coming and endeavored to get away. The constable captured Foutts near the old gas house, and he was immediately arraigned. The young man's father is now engaged in an attempt to raise a bond of $300 to prevent his son from going to jail.

Nice nobby dress pantaloons, lowest prices as usual.

MAY END THE STRIKE.

Mitchell Expected to Call Meeting at Scranton.

PROBABLY A STATEMENT TODAY.

Mitchell Says Mine Workers' Officials Won't Interfere in the Decision of the Convention—Offer of Ten Per Cent Increase Principal Subject.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 8.—A conference, which is believed to mark the beginning of the end of the miners' strike, was held at the headquarters of the United Mine Workers here. Those present besides President Mitchell were Fred Dilcher, of Ohio, a member of the executive board, and Presidents T. D. Nicholls, of District No. 1, Lackawanna and Wyoming valleys; James Duffy, District No. 7, Lehigh valley, and John Fahy, District No. 9, Schuylkill valley. Although no information was given out, it is known that the question of issuing a call for a joint convention was the principal matter discussed. From information received it can be asserted that a convention will be held at Scranton unless something unforeseen should arise between now and the time of issuing the call. Besides taking up the matter of a call it is understood that the question of representation was also considered. The three district presidents made reports as to the conditions as they now exist in the respective districts.

President Mitchell, after the conference, gave intimation that he would have something to say today in regard to the convention. If the date has been fixed only Mr. Mitchell and his colleagues know it. Of course the principal matter to come before the miners will be the acceptance or rejection of the 10 per cent net increase offered by most of the operators. President Mitchell said that not one official of the United Mine Workers will take a hand in any action the convention might take, as the men must themselves settle everything that comes before them. How long the convention will be in session depends upon the amount of business that may be presented. The belief is general that the miners will accept the increase. Most of the mine owners who have granted the wage concession do not specify in their notices how long the advance shall remain in force, and it is not unlikely that an attempt will be made by the miners in convention to open negotiations with the operators looking toward an understanding in the matter. President Mitchell and other labor leaders are strong advocates of an annual wage scale arrangement, similar to that in force in the bituminous coal district. The operators in these regions meet their employees each year and fix the wage scale. If this proposition and that relating to the abolition of the sliding scale are brought before the convention and negotiations with the mine owners are opened, it might considerably delay the settlement of the strike.

TO THWART MARCHING MINERS.

Large Number of Deputies Were Ready Sheriff Harvey Loses Patience.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 8.—It was learned that Sheriff Harvey has reached the limit of his patience in regard to the marching of large bodies of men, and that the marchers must obey his request to remain within the pale of the law or take the consequences. It is known that he feels he has been as lenient with the crowds as he could possibly be and that the action of several hundred men in running across the property of Calvin Pardee & Co. at Lattimer, has had much to do with the decision to be more stern hereafter. A carload of deputy sheriffs was in the Lehigh Valley yards last night ready to start at a moment's notice.

A locomotive was nearby with steam up, and all the telegraph operators on the Lehigh Valley system in this region were on duty for the purpose of sending messages to Sheriff Harvey and to the chief of the coal and iron policemen.

It was also learned that owing to rumors of contemplated marches today all the coal companies in this region had extra coal and iron policemen on duty last night. All the Lehigh Valley company collieries in this city were heavily guarded. This company had squads of its policemen brought here from Wilkesbarre, Mahanoy City, Centralia and Lost Creek.

Sheriff James Harvey, of this county, who has been kept busy during the past three weeks owing to the marching of large bodies of strikers, called on President Mitchell at headquarters. Neither would disclose the purpose of the meeting, but to say that it was merely a social gathering on the part of the sheriff. It is understood, however, that the sheriff's purpose in calling was to ask Mr. Mitchell to use his influence, as president of the United Mine Workers, to have the strikers refrain from further marching, on the grounds that the gathering of large crowds has a tendency to create disturbances. It is said that Mr. Mitchell informed the sheriff that, as the orders for marching did not emanate from headquarters, he could not stop the men from walking the roads.

W. J. Elliott, an aid on General Miller's staff, was called on by President Mitchell. The two were together for a short time. The object of the conference is not known, as neither would have anything to say regarding their talk.

FOR FOREIGN MISSIONS.

American Board of Commissioners to Hold an Important Meeting in St. Louis.

St. Louis, Oct. 8.—Next Wednesday the American board of commissioners for foreign missions will begin its nineteenth annual meeting at Pilgrim Congregational church, in this city. The meeting will be in session three days, and will be replete with matters of interest and great import. President Samuel B. Capen, of Boston, will preside. Between 200 and 300 corporate members, returned foreign missionaries and workers in home fields and their wives, officers of the various women's mission boards and theological students will be present, in addition to many prominent Congregational ministers and laymen from different parts of the country. None but corporate members of the board are allowed to vote at the annual meetings, although the others mentioned are entitled to take part in the program. These will be the most important of any meeting ever held by the board since its organization in 1810, owing to the famine in India and the crisis in China, where many workers have been killed and much property belonging to the missions under their control destroyed. Matters relating to the work in those and other fields will come up for discussion and action and officers for the ensuing year will be elected. Owing to the splendid record made by the present officers it is believed that all will be re-elected. The annual reports will show the board's financial condition the best it has been in many years.

M'KINLEYS HAD A DRIVE.

Time For Starting to Washington Today Was Changed.

Canton, O., Oct. 8.—Rain and dismal weather kept President and Mrs. McKinley pretty close to the house Sunday. They did have an early morning drive with several friends, but could not get out during the afternoon.

The plans for starting for Washington today were changed. The party will leave in a special car attached to the mail and express section of the eastbound train about 12:45, which runs through with fewer and shorter stops than the passenger section, which leaves an hour later.

Employees Decided to Accept Cut.

Danville, Pa., Oct. 8.—The employees of the Danville rolling mill held a meeting and decided to accept the 25 per cent cut in their wages, against which they struck last week. The puddlers will now be paid $3 a ton for their work, instead of $4, the price formerly paid, and a proportionate cut in wages will be made in the other departments. The reduction affects several hundred men. The fires were started Sunday and work will be resumed today.

Prince and Princess Were Welcomed.

Brussels, Oct. 8.—Prince Albert, of Belgium, and his bride, Duchess Elizabeth, of Bavaria, were received at the town hall. The royal procession was warmly acclaimed by the populace. The Socialist members of the municipal council were absent from the ceremony. About 5,000 school children participated in the demonstration and sang a patriotic song when the prince and princess appeared on a balcony.

A Victim of Bubonic Plague.

London, Oct. 8.—A bacteriological examination has been made in the case of Seaman Garnett, who arrived at Newcastle, Sept. 23, on a vessel from the Rio de la Plata, and went to Llandaff, Wales, where he died Thursday, supposedly of fever. The results show unmistakably that the disease was the bubonic plague.

Dowie Deacons Sent Away.

Mansfield, O., Oct. 8.—Deacons A. S. Lee and Homer Kessler, of Chicago Dowietes, arrived here Sunday and were taken in charge by officers and sent away.

Li Left For Peking.

WU'S GLIB EXCUSE.

Sinan-Fu Apparently Temporary Capital.

AMERICA'S EFFORTS A FAILURE.

Unable to Induce the Chinese Imperial Family to Return to Peking—President and Cabinet Expected to Take Up French Note Tomorrow.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Developments of any consequence in the Chinese situation are not looked for until after the return of President McKinley to the capital. He is expected tomorrow morning, and in the afternoon a cabinet meeting probably will be held when the questions presented by the French note will be gone over in an informal way. The French note, which recently has been addressed to the powers, is not regarded as just now of pressing necessity for action, as several of the nations interested have instructed their representatives in Peking to ascertain whether the imperial edict completely names the persons deserving of punishment; and other features of the French proposal contains propositions which can remain in abeyance. This government may not consider seriously the propositions which look to the prohibition of the importation of arms into China and the dismantling of fortifications. Interest meanwhile centers in the report which Mr. Conger will make regarding the adequacy of the punishments to be meted out by the Chinese government to those persons who were instrumental in the Boxer revolt, and the future course of this government may depend largely on what the investigations now being conducted develop. No advice have come as yet from Mr. Conger on this subject, but this is not surprising, as the work to be undertaken is of considerable magnitude. The war department officials expect that all the American troops which are to be sent from Peking to Manila will be out of China by the 21st inst.

Such efforts as have been made by the state department urging the return of the imperial family to the capital city seem up to this time to have been ineffectual. The last official advice of Minister Wu, now about a week old, indicated their intention of going to Sinan Fu, in the province of Shensi, which is further to the west than they now are. The fact that the acting governor of the province was directed to "refrain from all extravagant preparations" in making arrangements for the imperial family, is, to Mr. Wu's mind, an indication that their sojourn at Sinan Fu is to be but temporary. Conditions respecting the question of food and telegraphic communication were unsatisfactory at Tai Yen, in Shensi province, where the court had been located for a while after its departure from Peking, and these essential requisites will be improved in their new abode. Mr. Wu believes that Earl Li, the principal peace negotiator, already has started for Peking, as a message of several days ago indicated that it was impossible to reach him by telegraph at Tien Tsin, as he had started for the capital.

Expedition to Pao-Ting-Fu.

Tien Tsin, Oct. 6, via Shanghai, Oct. 8.—The expedition to Pao Ting Fu is now scheduled to start tomorrow (Sunday). It is reported that the Boxers have placed improved gunboats on the Grand canal to defend the town, although already practically deserted in anticipation of the projected attack.

BRYAN WENT TO C. P. CHURCH.

Spent Some Time Sunday With Relatives at Salem, Ill.

Salem, Ill., Oct. 8.—Wm. J. Bryan rested Sunday in the city of his birth, and spent the day with relatives. He arrived here about noon, and dined at the residence of Mrs. Mollie Webster, his cousin. Thirty of his relatives gathered at the residence and partook of the dinner. In the afternoon, accompanied by James C. Dahman, the national committeeman from Nebraska, who has charge of the special car in which Mr. Bryan travels; B. F. Shively, the newspaper correspondent and old friends residing in this city, he went to the farm and looked over the scenes of his boyhood. Last night he attended the Cumberland Presbyterian church, accompanied by relatives. Mr. Bryan was scheduled to speak here today and start on his Illinois tour.

MANY LIVES LOST IN FLOODS.

Whole Villages Washed Away—Thousands of Acres of Crops Ruined.

Tampico, Mexico, Oct. 8.—The Panuco and Tames rivers, which enter into the gulf at this place, were flooded and great damage was wrought in the populated and cultivated valleys above here. At one point, near Chila station, on the line of the Mexican Central railroad, the Tames river is over 50 miles wide, and swept to destruction hundreds of houses occupied by Mexican farmers and laborers.

Many cases of drowning were reported. All the tributaries of these rivers in the south and eastern parts of the state of San Luis Potosi are out of their banks and washed away whole villages and ruined thousands of acres of growing crops.

It was learned later that nine people were killed and a number severely hurt.

REBELS USE OUR TACTICS.

Reinforcements Sent to General Young. Tino and Villaneuve Show Signs of Activity.

Manila, Oct. 8.—Four troops of cavalry and two companies of infantry recently reinforced General Young in Northern Luzon, where the insurgents were concentrating in the mountains of North and South Ilocos provinces, under the leadership of Aglipay, the excommunicated priest and renegade.

Generals Tino and Villaneuve, who have been quiet for some time, have been showing signs of becoming active as the end of the rainy season approaches.

Of late there has been considerable scouting and skirmishing in the provinces of Abra and North Ilocos, though without decisive results. It is obvious, however, that the maneuvers of the Filipinos are more skillful than formerly, and that the field tactics of the Americans are being followed by them.

Senor Madini, the virtual founder of the so-called Filipino government, who was captured by the Americans last December and lodged in jail in Manila, has been liberated. As he had always persistently refused to take the oath of allegiance to the United States government, he had maintained his reputation among the Filipinos as a resolute patriot. They now believe that he has reached a private understanding with the American authorities which has secured his release, and consequently he has lost some of his popularity, although he is still the leader of the dormant revolutionary element.

This week the commission will begin the work of revising the tariff, making use of the results of the investigation of the army board in this direction. It is the intention of the commission to give American trade a better chance than it has hitherto enjoyed owing to high duties.

RICE WILL MAY BE FORGED.

Experts to Examine Will by Which Most of Millionaire's Fortune Was Assigned to Patrick.

New York, Oct. 8.—Albert T. Patrick and Charles F. Jones, attorney and secretary respectively for the late William Marsh Rice, whose checks they are accused of forging, are still in the toms, whither they were committed in default of $10,000 bail each on Friday last. Attempt will be made today by the authorities to obtain possession of the will alleged to have been drawn by Mr. Rice in which he gave to Patrick his entire fortune, after dividing about $500 among his relatives. It is the intention to submit this will as soon as it can be obtained to the attention of handwriting experts to determine its genuineness. In the meantime the experts will continue their examination of the alleged forged checks and the two documents which purport to assign to Patrick the entire Rice estate. All of these have been declared fraudulent by at least five experts, but no attempt has been made to discover the author of the alleged forgeries.

CHARLES F. JONES.

EIGHT KILLED BY CYCLONE.

Among the Victims Were One Entire Family.

Biwabik, Minn., Oct. 8.—A tornado passed through a Finlander settlement on Pike river, about two miles north of Biwabik, wiping out an entire family of six, husband, wife and four children. Owing to meager advices, their names cannot be learned. The body of Marowitz, a man that was missing after the tornado passed Biwabik, was found a quarter of a mile from his house on the rocks in a horribly mutilated condition. William Hilmstrom, another tornado victim, who had his skull fractured, died at the hospital here.

Missionaries and Others Feared Treachery.

Tien Tsin, Oct. 8.—The five Belgian engineers and 15 missionaries who had been kept prisoners for many weeks at Pao Ting Fu, but were recently released under orders from Li Hung Chang, who directed that they have safe escort to Peking, refused to start, fearing treachery on the part of the Chinese escort.

To Act as Judges at Pittsburg.

New York, Oct. 8.—Among the passengers who arrived on the steamer La Touraine from Havre were Messrs. J. W. Alexander, Alexander Harrison and Anders Zorn, three painters, who are under engagement to Andrew Carnegie to act as judges, at an exhibition at Pittsburg.

Mine Sold to English Syndicate.

Baker City, Ore., Oct. 8.—A dispatch from London states that the Red Boy mine, near this city, has been sold to an English syndicate. It is said the purchase price is in excess of $2,000,000.

A PATRIOTIC SCHEME.

Jericho was for having a Decoration Day Parade.

[Copyright, 1900, by C. B. Lewis.]

It was about a week before last Decoration day that Horatio Sparrow came into the postoffice looking as if he had sunthin on his mind, and as soon as he got the chance he whispered to me:

"Don't say nuthin to a livin soul, pap, but I'm comin around here to-night and shake the town of Jericho from center to circumference."

"In what way?" said I.

"Never you mind, pap. You jest git ready to feel the airth tremble, and tomorrow mornin you kin put $200 more value on your house and lot."

Horatio is a man who never gits excited when he wakes up and finds a cow in his garden, and I felt quite sure he had sunthin big on hand. He must hev told about 50 other people what he did me, as there was a big crowd at the postoffice at 7 o'clock in the evenin, and all expected to hear big news. Deacon Spooner took charge of things, as usual, and as the crowd got impatient he said:

"It is understood, feller citizens, that Horatio Sparrow is goin to launch a thunderbolt here tonight, and it is with fur me to ride on horseback at the head of the purcession."

There was a painful pause, and then Abner Jones, who was in fireman's uniform, jumped off the counter and said:

"There shouldn't be no jealousy about this thing. Horatio would look purty fine on his spotted horse, and the deacon would be no slouch in his cocked hat, but if there's to be any feelin over it I'll take the job off their hands. As I'm foreman of the fire company it comes in my line anyhow."

"I don't propose to give up my rights fur nobody," said Horatio.

"And I'm thinkin I'm the man to boss things," added the deacon.

"I don't want to charge anybody with hev'n too much cheek," said Squar Henshaw, "but it do look a leetle strange to me to see the way certain folks want to crowd to the front on public occasions. If there is a purcession, it's got to be headed by a man who knows how to boss things and can't be rattled. I bossed the parade the last time we had a Fourth of July, and you may remember that the newspapers said I managed it better than any we ever had."

"I'll allow that the squar did fairly well," said Enos Williams as he shut up his jackknife and got off the sugar bar'l, "but there are several other folks in this town of Jericho. For instance, I'm here myself. When anything has happened durin the last 20 years, I've bin pushed behind the currant bushes, as it was, and some one else has carried off the honors. I'm comin to the front on this occasion or know the reason why."

"Of course I kin. Why not?"

"It appears to me," said Silas Lapham as he stood out and rubbed his hands together, "that we are not workin in complete harmony in this matter. It will be the event of the century. It will be known from Maine to California that Jericho has had a Decoration day, and there will be thousands of inquiries fur real estate. Let us sacrifice any selfish interests as individuals and work to make the affair a general success."

"That's powerful good advice," said the deacon as he rapped on the stove with his cane—"powerful good. I alius stand ready to sacrifice, and I hope the rest of you do. Any further p'int, Silas?"

"You may call it a p'int or not," said Silas, "but bein there seems to be a controversy here I think it better be settled by selectin me to boss things. I don't want it because I'm proud and want to show off, but purely in the interests of harmony."

"I'll never surrender my rights!" said Horatio Sparrow.

"Nor me!" added Deacon Spooner.

"Nor me!" yelled Abner Jones and Squar Henshaw in chorus.

It was evident that the meetin was on the p'int of breakin up in a row when Lish Billings come saunterin in as calm as could be. The deacon seen him and called out:

"Feller patriots, before this meetin breaks up in a row that will send the price of Jericho real estate down to 50 per cent and put our civilizashun back 50 years let's hear what Lish Billings has to say about it."

"What's the question?" asked Lish.

"About Decoration day. Shall we decorate?"

"Decorate what?"

"Why, the soldiers' graves."

"I don't see how you are goin to do it," said Lish as he scratched his ear. "So fur as I know or hev bin able to find out, nobody from Jericho ever went to war. It tharfore follers that no Jericho man was ever killed. It follers, ag'in, that you might look the graveyard over fur a month and not find a soldier's grave to decorate. 'Pears to me that you'd better git yer grave fust."

Two minits later Lish was the only man left in the postoffice. It was as he had said—thar was nuthin to decorate, and all the blowin had bin fur nuthin.

Away From Home.

It breaks parents to have their boys leave home, but it is the best thing that can ever happen to them. A man gets a training when away from home that he needs in after life, and which he can never receive at home. It is a grandmotherly notion that a man should be tucked in his bed at home every night until the day he marries and goes to a home of his own; such liethouse treatment puts him in poor condition for the cold blasts he is bound to encounter later in life.—Atchison Globe.

"That's my p'int, deacon."

"And it's as strong as a log chain. Yes, sir; we'll celebrate the day, and in order to make it a howlin success I'll agree to take charge of the parade."

"But I object to that," said Horatio.

"Hevin originated this idea, I think it's

PLEASANT PRISONS.

THE SPECIAL ONES IN THE ENGLISH PARLIAMENT.

They Are Intended Particularly For Members and Other Persons Who Violate Parliament's Own Dignity, Rules and Customs.

Few persons are aware that England's parliament has its own special prisons within its own precincts which are intended particularly for its own members and persons who violate its own dignity, rules and customs. Of course these prisons seldom are used now, but they have been in the past, and not so very long ago, and may be again. The house of commons has one set and the house of lords another.

The commons prison is a little way up in the Clock Tower. Here are two sets of prisons, intended only for the accommodation of one prisoner each, one set being a little higher up in the tower than the other. Each set consists of a sitting room and two bedrooms, the former being a nice, comfortable room about three by five yards, with a neat carpet and chairs good enough for anybody. The extra bedroom is not intended for the prisoner or for any friends whom he might desire to put up for the night, but is the sleeping apartment of the official who looks after him during his incarceration. This man is usually the supervisor of badge messengers, and, besides looking after his man, he is also his servant for the time being, and waits upon him just like any other. He never need worry himself much upon the question of the possibilities of the prisoner's escape, for the sergeant-at-arms is responsible, and inasmuch as the only way of getting to and from the prison is by way of this sergeant's house and through it, the risk of such a thing ever happening is practically prohibitive.

While he is there the prisoner really has a good time. No restrictions as to hours are placed upon him, and he may rouse himself from his slumbers just when he feels most inclined and return to them in the same way. Practically the only thing he cannot do is to walk about outside just as he pleases, but he is permitted to take an hour and a half's exercise each morning and an hour in the afternoon on the terrace of the house, and the terrace, broad and long and with its splendid outlook upon the river, is by no means a bad place to take exercise. If he were left entirely unguarded, the prisoner might dive into the river and swim away, or, what would be simpler, hail a passing boat. So, just for precaution's sake, a couple of officers accompany him while he takes these breaths of fresh air.

He goes on Sunday to the church in Vincent square, and on these occasions also he has a couple of innocent looking attendants.

Moreover, there is no question of so many ounces of bread and meat, but if he has the money to pay for it he may feed himself upon the choicest viands that the most cultured palate could suggest. The house of commons has a first class restaurant, where the hungry M. P. may dine as well as he could anywhere in London. Each day the dishes which the kitchen has prepared are indicated on a menu which is brought up to the prisoner, and he ticks off anything for which he feels a fancy, and it is brought to him. The only drawback from his point of view is that the bill is presented to him just as it would be anywhere else, and in the event of his refusing to pay up he would eventually be served with a court messenger.

Among the occupants of the Clock Tower have been the late Charles Bradlaugh, who found himself consigned thither on account of a little difference with Mr. Speaker on the subject of the parliamentary oath. When Northampton returned Mr. Bradlaugh to parliament, he was not allowed to take the oath nor the substituted process known as affirmation. Mr. Bradlaugh, however, secured a New Testament and took a self administered oath, after which he proceeded to the next step of signing the roll. He refused to withdraw when the speaker requested him to do so, and consequently the sergeant-at-arms took charge of him, and to the Clock Tower prison he went.

When the erection of the Tower bridge was being considered, a statement was made that the Tower bridge bill committee was subject to bribery and corruption—a serious charge. Two men responsible for it were pronounced to have committed a breach of privilege, for the house is very sensitive upon such matters, and the speaker issued a summons for their appearance. One of them, Mr. Ward, gave himself up without delay, and he got seven days in the Clock Tower prison. The other offender, after a little delay, was captured and was for a brief period housed at Newgate.

The first M. P. imprisoned in the present house of commons was W. Smith O'Brien. One day in 1846 he committed contempt of the house by declining to sit upon a certain committee. Consequently he was sent to prison during the few weeks that the committee deliberated. This time, however, he was not sent to the Clock Tower prison, which was not finished, but did his durance in the cellar of the house.

A DISMAL FAILURE.

The Last Joke He Tried to Play on His Dear Wife.

"Elucidate."

"You see, she has a habit of hoisting the window in our room every night. As I usually go to bed last, she depends on me to hoist it. Sometimes I forget it, and then there's a wild squabble. Frequently she wakes me up in the night and asks me to see if it is open. If I don't she nags at me until morning. A night or two ago I resolved to give her a hard scare. I rolled up a lot of old newspapers into a long bundle and laid the package down by the window. Of course she was asleep and didn't hear me. Then I opened the window a little ways and crept into bed. Some time after midnight she nudged me and said: 'Jim, I'm sure you didn't open that window. It's like a bake oven in the room. Get up and see.' So I got up, went to the window and threw the sash as high as it would go. As I did so I gave a little shriek and then I flung my bundle down to the walk below. It struck with a dull thud, and I dodged behind the curtain to await developments. The room was very dark, and I couldn't see my wife, but I heard her raise herself to a sitting posture. Then she spoke. 'Poor old Jim,' she quietly said, 'he's tumbled out of the window in his raggedest nightshirt. What a spectacle he'll be when they find him in the morning!' Then she lay down again and went to sleep."

"What did you do?"

"Stood there like a fool for a minute or two and then sneaked into bed."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

ONE MEAL A DAY.

Pronounced a Secret of Human Health and Happiness.

It is by no means impossible that the newest world lecturer will allude to the delays of the single meal reform. The one meal a day plan was successfully practiced by some 80,000,000 men of the healthiest, wealthiest and most intelligent nations of antiquity for nearly 1,000 years.

No unprejudiced observer can deny that for the vast plurality of our fellow men there is no other practicable way to live up to the principle of the sanitary maxim, "Never to eat till we have leisure to digest."

Nine out of ten laborers have to hurry from the breakfast table to their daily work and cannot count upon more than a few minutes of afternoon meal rest. The same in rolling mills, shipyards, railway yards, workshops and schoolrooms.

Less than a year's time would suffice to give the one meal habit the force of a second nature, and those who would like to form an idea of its universal observance during the classic period of antiquity should read Peter Bayle's dissertation on "Domestic Life in Athens and Rome" or De Quincey's humorous essay, published in the second volume of miscellanies under the title, "Dinner, Real and Reputed."

There would be time for play, for reading, for the enjoyment of art and entertaining conversation.

Sunstrokes would be known only from the traditions of insanitary barbarism. The granger's youngsters would get afternoon sports enough to think life on a farm decidedly worth living. No after dinner martyrdom would tempt truants, housekeeping drudgery would be lessened two-thirds. —Felix M. Oswald, M. D., in Health Culture.

"My necktie is disarranged," Sherlock Holmes, Jr., suddenly exclaimed. His companion looked at him and said:

"How do you know? You haven't felt it, and there is no mirror here that you could have looked into. Some times, Mr. Holmes, I am almost forced, in spite of your declarations that you do these wonderful things by reasonable, human processes, to believe that you must be gifted with second sight. Now what has convinced you that your necktie is disarranged?"

"I noticed a man look at my tie just now and then feel of his own," the great detective answered.

"Wonderful! Wonderful! Only your tie is all right."—Chicago Times-Herald.

To Pack Eggs For Long Keeping.

The yolk of the egg spoils much quicker than the white. For this reason it is important that the yolk should be surrounded with a layer of the white. If the egg is placed on the side or large end the heavy yolk will settle to the bottom and come in contact with the shell, which admits the air. If it is placed on the small end it will always have a layer of white between it and the shell. Eggs absorb odors easily, therefore only odorless materials should be used when packing them.—Ladies' Home Journal.

DRINK COLD WATER.

QUIT BOOZING AND KEEP SOBER AND YOU WILL BECOME FAMOUS.

Q. Hope Jones, the Famous Temperance Lecturer, Cites a Few Historic Examples to Prove the Truth of This Proposition.

[Copyright, 1900, by C. B. Lewis.]

My Dear Fellow Citizens—It is my custom before proceeding to the business of the evening to take up a collection among the audience for the benefit of some charity. On this occasion the subject is the individual who stands before you. I have managed to get along for the last three days on 87 cents, but I can go no further. While there is no doubt that I am worthy of all you can do for me, yet no one need feel under obligations to give. I will now pass around the hat, and as I move among you I am glad to observe that the audience assembled here tonight is one of the most cultivated I have seen for months. I will not be base enough to think that free admission had anything to do with it. You came to hear one of the great questions of the day discussed by one of the great orators of the century, and had the price of tickets been 10 cents each I believe that one and all would have cheerfully coughed up. I do not use that expression in a slang sense, but as a Latin phrase. I find that the collection amounts to 70 cents, and, thanking you from the bottom of my heart and trusting that you may go out of here better men and women, I will now begin:

My friends, I have in my pocket the figures showing just how many distilleries and breweries there are in the United States and just how much whisky and beer are made every 24 hours during the year. But why give them? Why tell you that 1,000,000 of our population go to bed drunk every night in the year and that the money spent for drink every day would provide all the widows with sealskin sacks and French heeled shoes? We all know those things. Let us begin with Christopher Columbus, who had rather more to do with America than any man who has come after him. I give you his picture on the canvas. You look puzzled and surprised. You can't make it out. You behold Christopher lying drunk on the highway, with a jug on one side and a hog on the other. It is a fanciful picture. I want you to look at it closely and keep it in your minds, and every day for years to come I want you to ask yourself what would have happened if Columbus had been that sort of man. When Ferdinand and Isabella had fitted him out for his voyage, suppose he had gone and got a three days' jag on and had rolled around in the mud and had had three or four scraps with other old bums. Can you for an instant believe that he would have been left in command of the expedition or that this country would have been discovered for the next 50 years? But there was no boozing. He may have taken a farewell drink of root beer or lemonade, as was eminently proper, but it ended right there, and he became world famous as a result. A whole hemisphere and millions of people owe him a debt of gratitude and will remember his name forever because of his abstinence. The lesson taught by the picture is plain to all. Get drunk, and you will be sent to the island for 30 days; remain sober, and you will become famous.

My friends, let me give you the picture of George Washington as he was about to cross the Delaware and gain a great victory over the British. You observe that George is lying drunk with his feet on a chair while the patriot army waits for him to take the lead. You murmur and are aghast. You never heard that the Father of His Country got a jag on. No more did he. I give you this picture as an object lesson, and I ask you where this country would have been today had George gone off on a hoopla at a critical moment? In those old colonial days there was corn juice around by the barrel, and it was easier to get drunk than to roll out of bed, but Washington was a man to withstand temptation. On 12 different occasions, as I figure it, had he gone off on a tear, instead of attending to business, this country would not now be the United States. I never hail him as the great and noble without also blessing him for not filling up with corn juice. The analogy is plain to the dullest mind. Get drunk and fall over yourself and roll around in the catnip, and you'll die unknown and unwept. Let whisky and beer alone, except when ordered for cramps, and a nation will sorrow at your death and raise monuments to you for a thousand years after.

The name of John Hancock must always be associated with the Declaration of Independence. His name was the first to go down. His was the first neck to be put into the halter. I give you his picture. He is limpsy drunk and hanging to a lamppost in the city of Boston. The convention waits for him to sign his name to a document which will change the map of the world and bring forth a new nation,

HANCOCK.

then, when he had been out chopping wood in the rain, John Hancock may have taken a nip to keep the chills off, but never on any other occasion. He didn't need whisky to back up his patriotism. He had a cold, water hatred of tyranny, and when the time came to upset King George's apple cart he picked up a goose quill and wrote his name in letters which stand out like red paint on a white door. Half a pint of colonial corn juice down behind his vest would have unfitted the great patriot and left America a dependency.

My friends, I am not here to rail at distillers, howl at brewers or shout at saloon keepers. I am not begging you with tears in my eyes to shun the flowing bowl and not pound your wives or wallop your children. I am not going to spoil your sleep tonight by holding up the horrors and miseries of intemperance. I simply say to you that for a steady all around drink cold water tops everything else, and when judiciously mingled with buttermilk and root beer it produces patriots, poets, philosophers and statesmen. Try it once, and you will take no other. M. QUAD.

What Prompted Him.

A capital story of Rolf Boldrewood, the distinguished Australian novelist, is told. After T. A. Browne had suddenly leaped into fame as Rolf Boldrewood, author of "Robbery Under Arms," he continued for some years as stipendiary magistrate of Albany. One morning there was brought before him a rough bushboy of 14, charged with having held up several other boys on a country road. It was proved that he had presented a pistol at them and compelled them to empty all their pockets for his benefit.

"Dear me," said the surprised magistrate to the juvenile culprit, "what could have prompted you to do such a thing?"

What They Said.

"Did the girls say anything when they heard of my engagement?" she asked with a little curiosity.

"Very little," was the reply of her dearest friend.

"But they said something?"

"Oh, yes; they said something."

"Well, what was it?"

"Well, most of them merely exclaimed, 'At last!'"

There was a pause, and then she asked:

"Well, what did some of the others say?"

"One of them said: 'Who'd have thought it?'"

Another, "Will wonders never cease?"

And a third—"Oh, never mind the rest," interrupted the fiancée; "I never did have much curiosity."—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Not Bull Run.

On an excursion given by Secretary Langley to the members of the National Academy of Science down the Potomac, Bernard Green, of the library of congress, told the best story of the day. Mr. Green happened to be crossing the ocean some years ago on the Fourth of July, which national holiday was celebrated with great enthusiasm by the Americans on board.

"I say," asked one of the Englishmen, "what is this the anniversary of, anyhow? Isn't it to celebrate the battle of Bull Run or something of that kind?"

"No," promptly spoke up an American. "Not Bull Run—John Bull Run." —New York Tribune.

"A fool can ask more questions than a wise man can answer. Ain't that so?" "I can't answer you."—Indianapolis News.
